Police Head Denies Laxity In Race Riot

Montgomery Ruling Due Today; 'Riders' Begin Hunger Strike

By The Associated Press

A four-day hearing on charges of police refusal to protect "Freedom Riders" from a mob ended Thursday with an emphatic denial from Montgomery's police commissioner.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr. declined to say immediately whether he will issue a no-violence injunction against Montgomery police and continue in effect a similar existing order against the Ku Klux Klan.

Johnson is expected to make his decision known Friday.

In other racial developments, white and Negro Freedom Riders began a hunger strike in the city and county jails at Jackson, Miss. The hunger strikes apparently began together by accident, officers said, because white prisoners in the city jail have no contact with Negroes in the county jail. One white rider said they will fast until a federal court order is issued to halt bus segregation throughout the South.

No Extra Police Assigned

At the hearing before Judge Johnson, Commissioner L. B. Sullivan testified no extra police were assigned to the Greyhound bus station in Montgomery May 20 before a Freedom Rider bus arrived because "there was no indication that there would be trouble."

Sullivan, who said his life and the lives of his family have been threatened since the riot at the bus terminal, told the court he had instructed police to keep a constant check on the depot and break up any crowds which congregated.

But, he continued, no mob was evident before the bus pulled in from Birmingham — where there had been another racial uprising earlier — and "there was no indication that there would be any violence" at Montgomery.

Several Rulings Awaited

Johnson, when he hands down a ruling, is to decide whether to issue an order designed to compel police in the future to protect Freedom Riders and other interstate bus passengers.

He is to rule at the same time whether the temporary restraining order now in force to prohibit two Klan factions and four individuals from interfering with interstate bus travel is to be dissolved or kept in effect.

He must dispose also of an injunction request from local attorneys asking for a court order to prohibit Freedom Rider groups from interfering with interstate bus movement.

President's New Car Will Have Elevator Seat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy is going to have a new bubble-top limousine with an elevator back seat, for the ceremonial occasions when he or a visiting dignitary or both want to see or be seen in public.

The plastic-dome Lincoln which Kennedy now is using is more than 10 years old. It goes back to the Truman administration and 1950, although the plastic bubble on the back wasn't put on until 1953.

Now a new model will be ready soon after Kennedy gets back from Europe. And the back seat, along with a footrest, will go up and down electrically, to hoist the occupants up to where they can be seen more plainly. In the past, some short foreign visitors have barely been able to peer over the top of the back seat.

The plastic bubble is removable and can be fitted into the trunk. It comes in handy when the weather is bad and a ceremonial limousine still is needed.

Laotian Peace Parley Reaches Total Deadlock

GENEVA (UPI) — The Laos peace conference froze into a total deadlock Thursday as diplomats said could be broken only by President Kennedy and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev at their weekend meetings in Vienna.

The deadlock came on Western insistence that the fighting in Laos must come to a stop before peace talks can be held and on Communist insistence that the conference begin immediate discussion of long-range plans for Laos.

Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi underlined the Communist position by issuing a veiled warning that the Laos problem will get worse unless the United States drops its demand for stronger cease-fire controls.

Communist diplomats, meanwhile, began sending out feelers suggesting that the only solution would be the partition of Laos. This would leave the country in a position similar to Korea, Germany and Viet Nam. The Communists made no formal proposal to this end, however.

Following the Communist speeches and suggestions, a British spokesman said, "the cleavage between East and West is clean cut."

American spokesman Ned Nordness told a news conference:

"The United States has many plans to offer to this conference. It is fully prepared to offer constructive proposals for the settlement of the Laos problem. But the United States doesn't want to negotiate under pressure of military operations in Laos."

Press dispatches from Vientiane said the fighting still continued in many parts of Laos. The Pathet Lao Communist rebels were attacking government positions in the Paogong region, 20 miles from the rebel "capital" of Xient Khouang.

Pair Held In $1½ Million Stock Brokerage Swindle

ATLANTA (UPI)—An Atlanta couple that operated a stock brokerage firm was arrested Thursday on charges of misappropriating more than $1.5-million of clients' funds.

Carl A. Pruett, president of Pruett & Co., Inc., and his wife, Gertrude, were picked up by U.S. marshals acting on an indictment returned by a federal grand jury.

The Pruett, both in their 40s, were taken into custody late Thursday at a house they had taken in North Fulton (Atlanta) County.

William Green, regional director for the eight state southeastern district of the Securities and Exchange Commission, said the $1.5-million figure was a "conservative" estimate of the loss suffered by the firm's customers.

Shoot For Gains In 1962, Forget 1964, GOP Told

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, flailing at the Kennedy administration for "government by big brother" and "immoral spending," told Republicans Thursday night they can capture Congress next year.

The former president prepared his speech for nearly 6,000 Republicans at a $100-a-plate, fund-raising dinner kicking off the 1962 congressional campaign.

Eisenhower pledged foreign policy support to President Kennedy as the spokesman for all Americans in crisis-laden times. But he said Republicans will speak their views constructively and added: "Republicans rightly expect to be consulted before, not after, the hour of decision or the moment of action."

Concentrate On 1962

The former president, 70, counseled the GOP to forget about the 1964 presidential election for the present and, instead, to pour its money and energy into winning the House and Senate in 1962.

To start jockeying now for the White House sweepstakes would be fatal to party unity, Eisenhower said—"a grave disservice to us all and, more important, to our country."

"More than one man has found that in pushing too fast to get to the front, he has lost a following," Eisenhower counseled the sell-out crowd in the National Guard Armory.

"Those who run too fast into the future sometimes trip over the present."

Republicans who probed his words to learn whether Eisenhower would favor former Vice President Richard M. Nixon or some other potential nominee in 1964 found no clues in the cautious phrasing.

"All of us, at this point, must work together to build up the entire party, so that our combined voices and influence will command ever wider respect and support," Eisenhower said.

Solidarity Appeal

"As a party, we have today one overriding mission — to achieve more brilliant victories in the local, state and congressional elections this year, and then in 1962."

The Republican National Committee Friday morning will choose a new national chairman. Eisenhower opened the speech, his first major address since leaving office, with an appeal for national solidarity and a reminder that "only one individual, the President, can speak for our country as it strives in the world arena to solve world problems."

"As the President attempts to preserve our freedoms, as he seeks to strengthen peace, as he confers with foreign leaders whether friendly or hostile, he has the hopeful and sympathetic good will of all loyal Americans, regardless of party."

Explosions Rock Fireworks Plant

NORTH EAST, Md. (AP) — A series of explosions rocked a fireworks plant in this Cecil County town tonight, but State Police said there was no indication of anyone dead or injured.

Police identified the plant as the Bacon Hill Fireworks Co., about two miles east of North East on Maryland 7.

Trujillo Shot At Least One Of Assassins

Dominican Dictator Fought Ambushers To End, Army Says

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo died shooting it out with his attackers, the armed forces announced Thursday.

The 69-year-old strong man and his chauffeur seriously wounded one attacker and perhaps injured another before being shot down outside Ciudad Trujillo by ambushers, a communique stated.

Ironically, the gaudy, bermed military uniform that Trujillo loved may have been the assassins' tipoff.

The attack had been planned for three months, the communique said, and was carried out Tuesday night when the assassins learned Trujillo had put on his uniform. They knew that meant he was leaving the city, for he seldom wore the uniform in Ciudad Trujillo.

Slain After Visiting Mother

The communique, giving the first details released by the government, told this story:

Trujillo visited his widowed mother, Dona Julia Molina, Tuesday night, as he did every night. She lives near Modesto E. Diaz, brother of former Brig. Gen. Juan Tomas Diaz, who has been implicated as one of the conspirators.

Noticing Trujillo was wearing his uniform, the assassins decided to kill him as he and Capt. Zacarias de la Cruz motored to the dictator's estate in San Cristobal.

On the highway three cars cut off the dictator's automobile. The gunmen poured fire into Trujillo's car, wounding him.

His driver attempted to turn around and escape but Trujillo ordered: "I am wounded. Let us stop and fight."

Trujillo drew a revolver and fired at the attackers; the driver used one of two machine guns carried in the car.

Body Found In Car Trunk

Before falling unconscious, the driver saw the attackers beating the mortally wounded Trujillo. The generalissimo's battered body was found in a car trunk at the scene next morning.

The communique gave no indication whether the slaying was the result of a personal grudge against Trujillo or an attempt to overthrow his government. In any case Trujillo's armed forces were maintaining tight control over the nation.

The dictator's body was lying in state in his luxurious home in the capital. Thousands of persons filed past the bier for a last look at the man who ruled their nation with an iron fist for 31 years.

Services will be held Friday in San Cristobal.

Trujillo's Son Heads Military

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The Dominican government announced Thursday night it had named Rafael Trujillo Jr., son of the assassinated dictator, as head of the air force and army.

The announcement said the decision was taken at a meeting attended by President Joaquin Balaguer, members of the Cabinet, the presidents of the Senate and Chamber of Deputies, and Supreme Court justices.

The announcement added that the meeting had also agreed to follow the same domestic and foreign policies as those in effect before the elder Trujillo's death Tuesday night.

Rafael flew back here Wednesday.

U.S. Restricts Travel To Dominican Republic

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government decided Thursday the assassination of dictator Rafael Leonidas Trujillo doesn't spell immediate turmoil in the Dominican Republic. But it restricted travel to that country as a precautionary measure.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, proposed that the Organization of American States send a fact-finding commission to the island to determine just what is happening. He stressed that he is not proposing any sort of intervention.

Austrians Say Khrush Hints Berlin Truce

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—Austrian sources said Thursday Premier Khrushchev has assured President Kennedy he may be tolerant on the Berlin issue through the first year or so of Kennedy's administration.

There was no confirmation here in Moscow or in Paris, where Kennedy and French President Charles de Gaulle have made it clear they agree the time has come when a line must be drawn against Red pressure in Europe.

Certainly a showdown is not expected on any world issue in the Kennedy - Khrushchev meeting here Saturday and Sunday. That may not stand in the way of Berlin, nuclear testing or disarmament being presented in dramatic new dress. But the meeting is billed by both sides as an exploratory conference for private discussions, not public decisions.

U.S. officials now in Paris expect Khrushchev to make another move before the year end for a Soviet-East German peace treaty as a squeeze play against the U.S. British and French positions in Communist-surrounded West Berlin.

But the Austrian informants, of authentic standing, said Khrushchev implied assent to a temporary truce on Berlin in a recent exchange with Llewellyn Thompson, U.S. ambassador to the Soviet Union.

By their account, Thompson told Khrushchev that Kennedy was not ready so early in his administration to open discussions on such a weighty and critical issue. Khrushchev indicated he understood that position and may hold off six months or so.

Khrushchev is to arrive by train Friday from Communist Czechoslovakia. Kennedy will fly from Paris Saturday.

The massive cave-in engulfed 25 homes, a three-story apartment building and a small ceramics factory. Gas mains were broken and a series of explosions set off by electric sparks rocked the neighborhood.

House Votes New Funds For Agencies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Thursday voted $751,300,050 in new funds for the State and Justice Departments, the federal courts and the U.S. Information Agency. That was $34,284,132 below the amount requested by President Kennedy.

The money, for use during the fiscal year starting July 1, was contained in a bill sent to the Senate by a 256-71 roll-call vote. The House accepted exactly the recommendations made last week by the House Appropriations Committee.

No effort was made to restore any of the $16,697,500 trimmed from funds requested for the U.S. Information Agency, the nation's foreign propaganda arm.

Attempts to reduce entertainment funds for foreign operations were beaten down by voice votes. These funds commonly are known in congressional parlance as "booze funds."

Swiss Cheese Having Phony Holes Seized

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The U.S. government has begun a crack down on Swiss cheese with phony holes.

The Food and Drug Administration announced Thursday that 2,700 pounds of Swiss cheese had been seized because it had "artificial" eyes—that is, the holes were made by mechanical devices rather than developing naturally through the curing process.

Worse, according to the FDA, some firms "have further promoted the concealment of inferiority by re-arranging or by facing the outside of cellophane wrapped sliced Swiss with slices having well developed eyes and placing in the middle of the package some slices with no or fewer holes."

At Least 15 Die In Paris Cave-In

PARIS (UPI)—A large section of earth under the western Paris suburb of Clamart collapsed Thursday with a heavy loss of life.

At least 15 persons were known dead and an undetermined number were missing. Police and rescue teams removed 27 injured persons from the tangled wreckage.

The massive cave-in engulfed 25 homes, a three-story apartment building and a small ceramics factory. Gas mains were broken and a series of explosions set off by electric sparks rocked the neighborhood.

Paris Police Prefect Maurice Papon said he believed a crust of earth straddling a crack in subterranean rock structure had collapsed after being weakened by heavy rains.

Oklahoma Lad 13th Boy To Win Spelling Crown

WASHINGTON (AP)—A straight "A" student, who said he was doubtful of only one word, spelled down 72 other youngsters to win the National Spelling Bee championship Thursday.

John Capehart, 12, of Tulsa, Okla., calmly waded through 25 rounds of increasingly difficult words to become the 13th boy champion since the first bee in 1925.

Runner-up was Mary Lukes, also 12, of Oxnard, Calif. Mary, who said she had set out to be No. 1, had to settle for the second spot after slipping on "distichous." She misspelled it "distichous." The word means arranged in two vertical rows.

John then spelled that word correctly and, to clinch the title, calmly handled another toughie, "smaragdine," which means of or pertaining to emerald.

Nixon Declares End To Atomic Stalemate Vital

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UPI) — Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon Thursday emphasized the unity of the American people behind President Kennedy in his meeting with Premier Khrushchev and said the Soviet leader "must be made to realize he can't talk one way and act another."

Nixon put particular stress on the importance of seeking an end to the "present stalemate" over testing atomic weapons. He said it was "essential" for the United States and free world to end that stalemate during which tests have been suspended without inspection.

Nixon interjected non-partisan remarks on the coming Kennedy-Khrushchev meeting in a speech prepared for delivery at a Republican "road to victory" fund raising dinner at the Palladium.

"As President Kennedy meets with Mr. Khrushchev, he will be speaking for a people who want peace but who will back the President of the United States to the limit in a program of strength and action to stop Communist conquest of the free world," said Nixon.

While Khrushchev speaks of a desire for "peaceful coexistence," said Nixon, he did not abide by what he said. "He cannot insist on no interference in the Communist world," the 1960 GOP presidential candidate said, "and yet continue his support of Communist revolution in the free world."

U.S., French Leaders End Talks Today

Kennedy Declares Allies Must Counter Growing Red Threat

PARIS (AP) — President Kennedy urged the North Atlantic Treaty Organization Thursday night to build a formidable front against Communist advances in a vast area of the underdeveloped world where "freedom is now in danger."

The President made his plea in an address to a special session of the 15-nation NATO Council. It came soon after he and President Charles de Gaulle turned their attention from a threatened Berlin crisis to perilous problems in Africa, Asia and Latin America.

The President at the same time assured the Atlantic allies the United States is totally involved in Western Europe's destiny. This already had been underscored by general agreement at the Kennedy-de Gaulle summit on stiff resistance to Soviet Premier Khrushchev's threats against West Berlin.

Kennedy meets Khrushchev in Vienna Saturday and Sunday.

Expanded Role Necessary

"We have an historic responsibility," Kennedy told the NATO Council, "and it is a matter of vital strategic significance to your countries' future and mine that we concern ourselves with the whole southern half of the globe where we are now in danger and where freedom is now in danger, and where those who place themselves on the opposite side of the table from us seek to make their great advances."

Showing the importance the President attaches to his current meetings with de Gaulle and the approach to Khrushchev in Vienna, Kennedy summoned three aides to the French capital.

U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson arrived Thursday from Moscow.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk is arriving Friday from Washington and roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman from Geneva, where he is chief U.S. delegate to the 14-nation conference on Laos.

Diplomatic sources reported that after two days of meetings, de Gaulle has been favorably impressed by his young ally from across the Atlantic.

Kennedy, Jackie Capture Paris

The President, 44, and his trim, French-speaking wife Jacqueline, have had a big impact on the people of the capital, too. The second day of the state visit was one of triumph for the presidential couple. Paris showed Kennedy a remarkable outpouring of warmth as he received the glittering old capital's official, ceremonial welcome.

Kennedy concludes his talks with de Gaulle Friday, possibly with Secretary Rusk and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville sitting in. In the first two days of the two-man summit, only interpreters were present.

Kennedy and de Gaulle, diplomatic sources reported, discussed NATO at some length in their afternoon session, after having explored problems in Asia, Africa and Latin America. The two have not seen eye-to-eye on the roles of the individual nations in the alliance, and de Gaulle was reported to have stated his views on this. Briefly, de Gaulle insists on full French sovereignty within the organization.

Despite such differences, the two were said to have got on well together.

Jackie's New Hairdo Causes Stir In Paris

PARIS (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy's new hairdo is officially "a la Parisienne."

The new look is the creation of the leading French hairdresser Alexandre, who described it as "reviving deep waves, which have not been seen for a long time." He called it an entirely new line for him.

The coiffure was designed for Thursday night's state dinner in the magnificent Hall of Mirrors at the Palace of Versailles. Alexandre said it is in the style of the 17th century Louis XIV period. But her New York hairdresser Mr. Kenneth—whose style for the President's wife has been copied by untold American girls—confided to a reporter that he prefers a 20th century look.

The hairdo, which clipped an inch from the First Lady's locks, and includes a tambourine-shaped wigpiece topped by a dazzling diamond high on the top of her head, first was pictured with bangs. Later the bangs were swept back from her forehead.

Eichmann Called Killer By Himmler, Court Told

JERUSALEM (UPI)—Nazi police boss Heinrich Himmler denounced Adolf Eichmann as a cold-blooded killer for once defying his orders and sending 50,000 Jews on a 125-mile "death march," the court trying Eichmann for mass murder was told Thursday.

The inside story of the tragic event was contained in a statement by a former Eichmann aide submitted among other documentary evidence by the prosecution. The prosecution also called to the stand a woman survivor of the November, 1944, death march and a Jewish eyewitness to it.

The prosecution contends the "death march" was organized by Eichmann as the climax to his campaign to exterminate the 200,000 Jews left in Budapest after he already had shipped 450,000 to the gas chambers.

The prosecution says that between 6,000 and 10,000 Jews were either shot by guards or died on the march from Budapest to Austria from hunger, cold or disease.

In a statement Eichmann's Budapest transport officer SS Col. Kurt Becher said he and SS Maj. Gen. Otto Winkelman, Nazi police chief in Budapest, went together to appeal to Himmler to call off the "death march." He said Himmler cabled Eichmann to stop it but that Eichmann defied the orders. Becher said he told the Nazi police boss that Eichmann was responsible for "outright murder."

Becher's statement said Eichmann was summoned to Himmler's headquarters in December 1944. In his presence, Becher said the enraged Himmler shouted at Eichmann that he was murdering Jews and demanded the death march be stopped. Becher said that following the violent scene Eichmann promised to obey Himmler's orders.

Tawes Names Shuger To Welfare Board

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Thursday announced appointment of Julius O. Shuger of Baltimore to the State Board of Public Welfare succeeding Henry C. Evans, whose six-year term has expired. He also named Dr. Leo S. Schives of Hancock to a five-year term on the State Board of Veterinary Medical Examiners succeeding Dr. Howard L. Baker. These were the only new appointees in a list of 10 announced by Tawes Thursday.

Split-Brained Monkey Does Double Tasks

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Ever try to do two things at once?

It can't be done if you're human, but scientists at the California Institute of Technology have monkeys trained to perform directly two opposite tasks at the same time.

Their right hands literally don't know what their left hands are doing because their brains have been cut in half by surgery.

The monkeys actually have two brains instead of one. Normally linked by bands of nerve fibers, the two large lobes of the brain comprising the cerebrum are divided in a three-hour operation. Afterward, each half operates independently and either can tell the monkey what to do.

The man who developed the surgical technique is Dr. Roger W. Sperry, professor of psychobiology.

After the linking nerve fibers are severed, the double-brain monkeys are trained in a box something like an automat.

The monkey feeds himself by pushing two levers, one marked with a circle, the other with a triangle.

One of his brains soon learns that if he directs his hand to push the lever with a circle, out pops a peanut.

The other brain is taught simultaneously that it must push the lever marked with a triangle to get food.

The monkey can see the levers only by peering through two peep holes. By blocking off one peep hole or the other, the scientists can determine which brain half the monkey must use.

Boys' Tree House Spared Pending Ruling By Board

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Department of Parks was handed a zoning problem Thursday. It's a house up in a tree.

The out of the ordinary tree house is a split level luxury job. It stretches through three trees and is fitted out with wall to wall carpeting and a railed sun deck.

However, some neighbors complained to the parks department about a building on city property. The trees belong to the city.

Workmen were sent out to start tearing down the house. But George A. Keen, a district superintendent, heeded the cries of "spare that tree house" from mothers of the boys who built it. Keen halted the demolition. He will ask the park board for a ruling.

Controlled Access Roads Safest, SRC Study Shows

BALTIMORE (AP)—A five-year study conducted by the State Roads Commission indicates modern design highways substantially reduce traffic deaths.

The study, prepared by Ernest W. Bunting of the agency's bureau of traffic, showed the fatality rate on uncontrolled highway sections was about two and a half times greater than on highways with controlled access.

Bunting said survey results "indicate beyond a doubt the superiority of the controlled access features and other design features

Jury Convicts Jones Of First Degree Murder

BALTIMORE (AP)—A Baltimore Criminal Court jury Thursday convicted Alexander Jones, 24, of first degree murder, but chose not to recommend punishment.

Jones, who already is serving a prison term for a lesser crime, was charged with the robbery-murder of real estate and insurance man Abraham Givner in March 1960.

Judge Joseph L. Carter deferred sentence because of a motion for a new trial requested by defense attorneys.

The unqualified verdict calls for either life imprisonment or execution in the gas chamber. The prosecution had asked the jury of six men and six women to recommend death.

After the trial opened Wednesday, Jones denied he was one of three men who shot Givner at his office.

Jones also denied he made a statement admitted into evidence by Judge Carter. Jones was quoted in the statement as saying he and Robert Galloway White, 30, also charged with the murder, entered Givner's office to rob him.

The statement quoted Jones as saying White shot Givner when the elderly man became panicky. White is in jail awaiting sentence on a first-degree murder conviction in another case.

Butler Offers Bills To Block Turncoat Pay

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. John Marshall Butler, R-Md., has introduced two bills which would block payment of military back pay to turncoats of the Korean War and to future prisoners of war who engage in disloyal activities.

The Republican senator said "disloyalty should be forcefully condemned—not rewarded" and that the two bills would "eliminate the premium that has been placed upon dishonor."

He introduced the legislation, Butler said, because of a recent Supreme Court decision regarding Korean War turncoats.

One bill would amend existing law to prohibit payment in future cases to prisoners who cooperate with or give assistance to the enemy or who act in a manner inconsistent with the continued well-being of their fellow prisoners.

The other measure prohibits expenditure of funds for any prior claim made by a prisoner of war who engaged in disloyal acts to the United States. This would prevent the Korean turncoats from collecting back pay.

Six Die When Car Smashes Into Train

ANGLETON, Tex. (UPI)—William J. Rose, his wife, four children and best friend set out by car in a tearing hurry to start a three-week vacation. It was all over in 15 minutes.

Their destination was Thunderbolt, Ga. but death struck at the railroad tracks just a few miles down the road from the Rose home in Freeport, Tex.

The car struck the side of a gondola car with such force that the gondola was derailed. The auto was crushed and welded to the Southern Pacific switch train car.

Only Lynda Rose, 8, lived, so badly injured she may not survive. The other six occupants were dead—Rose and his wife, Gypsie, both 36, their friend, Manuel Oliver, 68, and three of the Rose children: Eunice, 15, Ellen, 13 and William, Jr., 6. They died instantly.

Food Stamp Plan Launched At Uniontown

UNIONTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania's first food stamp program under the pilot plan of President Kennedy got under way Thursday in economically depressed Fayette County.

Mrs. Ruth G. Horting, State Secretary of Public Welfare, handed out the first stamps to Claude Parnell of Lambertown, a retired coal miner on United Mine Workers pension.

Parnell, 61, who supports his wife and two grandchildren, bought $34 worth of stamps and received $36 worth free.

Mrs. Horting, who presided at a brief ceremony opening the program, read a telegram from Orville Freeman, U.S. agriculture secretary, expressing hopes the program would be successful.

Some 8,000 families are expected to get stamps in the early stage of the program. Eventually 69,000 persons will be eligible to receive stamps in the Southwest Pennsylvania county.

Fayette County is one of the most job hungry spots in the nation with some 12,200 out of a work force of 45,900 unemployed.

11 Injured In School Bus Collision

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Eleven high school students received minor injuries Thursday when one school bus rammed into the rear of another near Pasadena in Northern Anne Arundel County.

The students, all enrolled at Glen Burnie Senior High School, were released after treatment at two hospitals, Anne Arundel General in Annapolis and South Baltimore General.

County police said a bus driven by Earl Pumphrey, 59, of Glen Burnie had parked behind another bus which was discharging passengers.

Police said Pumphrey's bus was struck in the rear by a third bus driven by William R. Rice Jr., 27, also of Glen Burnie. Rice, who suffered a cut leg, was charged with reckless driving.

Woman To Woman

By PATRICIA MC CORMACK
NEW YORK (UPI) — You know you've got to eat to live. But did you know talking about food helps to establish good food habits?

Dr. Charlotte G. Babcock is the psychiatrist who says so. Concern

Callouses
To relieve callouses, burning, tenderness on bottom of feet and remove callouses—ask for these soothing, cushioning pads.
Dr. Scholl's Zino-pads

what you know about it—and what you feel about it. Dr. Babcock does her saying in a report in the Journal of the American Dietetic Association. She claims the human race has long known that food is more than calories. "Food is essential for both the body and the spirit," she said. "It not only calls forth much of thinking and emotion, but food also can be endowed readily with meanings and attitudes that are indeed the body and the soul of the person who partakes of or rejects the food available to him." To illustrate the point about food being more than something to keep the body alive, Dr. Babcock cited a case history from a clinic. The patient was an eight month old baby rushed to children's hospital in Pittsburgh. The baby was breathing with great difficulty. The child had a mild case of pneumonia which responded to treatment. But the cause for his breathing disability lay in the fact that the baby, of whom the mother was extremely proud, weighed 35 pounds. The fact that food meant more than calories to the mother came out during an interview. The mother indicated that all of the family for three generations had been "big" people. Made confident from the teaching she had received from her mother and grandmother, the woman fed the child two quarts of milk a day. "The mother was using milk for this baby for more than its caloric content," Dr. Babcock said. "In keeping with her image of her own people as large, she felt that everyone could readily see that she was a good mother." Dr. Babcock said that in getting the proper attitude toward food, it is important to know that food is, from the day of birth, associated with intimacy. "Buttressed by other life essentials, it carries not only the feelings of security, protection, love and developing strength, but also the sense of pain, rejection, deprivation, and the potential terror of starvation," Dr. Babcock said.

Tawes Names Sklar Chairman Of PSC

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Gov. Tawes Wednesday appointed Albert L. Sklar, Baltimore attorney, as chairman of the Public Service Commission. Sklar, a Democrat, is presently a member of the three-man commission. He succeeds Republican Stanford Hoff in the $9,000 a year job as chairman. To fill the vacancy created by the elevation of Sklar, the governor named Edward D. Storm, former State senator from Frederick County, to the commission for a six-year term. His salary will be $8,000 yearly. The third member of the commission is Francis V. duPont, whose term expires in 1963.

Manufacturing Inventories Show Increase

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges Wednesday reported more good news about the economy: The first increase in manufacturing inventories since last August. Hodges also announced, at a news conference, that sales and new orders of manufacturers advanced further in April. A slump in inventories which began in mid-1960 was a major factor underlying the recent recession. Hodges made public a report which showed that inventories of manufacturers increased by $60 million between March and April to $53.4 billion. The increase centered in stocks of steel producers and food, chemical and rubber companies. While inventories of firms making soft goods added about $200 million, durable goods were down by $100 million to inventories.

Ann Landers . . . Answers Your Problems

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I'm a 20-year-old college student and I go to a lingerie store and buy the proper padding. I would like to look the same coming and going in plain language I have no curves whatever.

DEAR 24: If you suddenly turned up 36-24-34 it would indeed cause speculation. The saleswoman will suggest the proper help. Trust her judgment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I was so pleased to read your advice today because for years my husband has been telling me I'm nuts. Now I can show him your column and prove that people DO get aches and pains when they are bothered by an emotional problem.

Every year when my husband's mother comes to visit I get an unbearable sideache. She has always treated my husband like a small child and made me feel that I could never do anything right. She rearranges the furniture, takes my stove apart to "clean it properly" and re-lines all the shelves.

I keep hoping my husband will speak up in my behalf one day, but he never has. How can a wife get her husband to be loyal to HER and break away from his mother's domination after 15 years of marriage?

—CAUGHT IN ORBIT

DEAR C. I. O.: If, after 15 years, your husband has not taken your part there's little chance that you can change him.

On his mother's next trip why don't YOU speak up and tell her that you like the furniture where you put it, the stove as it is, and the shelves as you fixed them. These things are in your domain, not your husband's. Perhaps if you issue a declaration of independence you can get rid of that annual sideache.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have been invited to two birthday parties on the same day. Both invitations were in the mail this afternoon.

I would much rather go to one party than the other, but my mother says I should go to both parties, and split the time. The two girls who are having the parties are not on good terms and I think it may get me in bad if I go from one girl's house to the other.

I tried to tell my mother that I should be allowed to make a choice but she says if I don't go to both parties I can't go to either one. Is this fair?—MISS MIKE

DEAR MISS: I think your mother gave you excellent advice. I might add the suggestion however, that you be allowed to go to the party of your choice LAST because you will undoubtedly spend more time at that party. Also, it will end the day on a more pleasant note.

CONFIDENTIAL To Duffy's Mother: Don't write to his commanding officer, please. Mother—unless you want him to wind up swabbing the deck for the next three years.

CONFIDENTIAL to Soffie: Look the other way. If the residents of Johnstown survived the flood you should be able to survive a few tears.

Are you going steady? Making marriage plans? If so, send for ANN LANDERS' booklet, "Before You Marry—Is It Love Or Sex?", enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Secrets Of Charm

How To Avoid Some Needless Wedding Day Worries

There's always great indecision and questions among couples having parents who are divorced. The bride inquires who sends out her wedding invitations . . . her mother, or father, or, do they send them out together? Who gives the reception? These are but a few of the questions received in our daily mails.

When the parents of the bride are divorced, they never send out invitations together. This is in very bad taste. The invitations are sent out only in the name of the bride's mother.

It is always better that the mother rather than the father give the wedding and wedding reception. The reversal of this might imply that the mother is not considered fit to have the custody of her daughter.

One thing that isn't altered by the divorce, and that is that the father takes the same part in the wedding proper. For example, on the day of the wedding, just before the ceremony is to begin, the father comes to call for his daughter.

Focus On Health

By The Associated Press

Tips on pets, tender toes, a side effect of beer, and a look at the possibility of human seasons are subjects with a focus on health.

Beware Of Dog

In just one year some 600,000 Americans were bitten by dogs—and man's canine friend can be a problem in the warmer months ahead when people take to the outdoors.

Dogs can make wonderful companions if they are handled right, says Dr. Herman E. Hilliboe, New York health commissioner. He offers these tips:

Don't give a dog to a child under the age of 6. This can prevent a fifth of all dog bites.

Don't wake a dog suddenly. Teach children to care for them, not abuse or tease them.

Don't intervene in dog fights. Don't startle an eating dog. Don't take his food away from him. Don't run with a dog if it excites him, and don't ride a bicycle near an excited dog.

Have your pet vaccinated for rabies.

For Tender Toes

Stretch socks may be harmful for children, a podiatrist says. In many youngsters between the ages of 2 and 12, ingrown toenails are caused by tight socks and in some the beginning of hammer toes have been seen. He advises against stretch socks before the age of 15.

Side Effect Of Beer

Beer may affect the clotting of blood in some persons. Sixteen men and women were given a pint of beer to drink and in two hours, 12 showed a definite delay in clotting time. Whisky had no significant effect, but cider and white wine did. Blood returned to normal four hours after drinking.

Human Seasons?

Some bacterial diseases seem to have seasons, causing outbreaks of respiratory illness at certain times of the year. But a Boston University doctor wonders if the seasons are not human.

The germs are found in humans all year long, explains Dr. Henry Stimson Harvey. Yet the outbreaks of disease are seasonal, indicating there may be a seasonal change in people that makes them susceptible to influenza, streptococcus and pneumococcus diseases.

High Medicine Cost Blamed On Promotion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — About 24 cents of every dollar the American consumer spends on prescription medicine is used by the drug makers to advertise and promote their products.

Paul Rand Dixon, chairman of the Federal Trade Commission (FTC), gave this statistic to United Press International following recent testimony before a House committee. He said the promotion campaigns mounted by the top 20 ethical drug firms are one reason for the high cost of medicine in the United States.

Dixon made the charge when asked to comment on his testimony before a closed-door session of a House appropriations subcommittee. The testimony was made public Wednesday.

He said prescription drug manufacturers spend $750 million a year for advertising. This averages about $5,000 a year for each of the 150,000 practicing doctors in the United States.

Dixon said he hoped the FTC reorganization proposals submitted by the President and an increased number of hearing examiners would enable the commission to do a better job of policing advertising in medical journals.

Senate Group Backs Anti-Pollution Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — A five-year plan to gradually increase federal funds for an anti-pollution program was approved by the Senate Public Works Committee Wednesday.

The program is designed to help municipalities build sewage treatment plants and finance other anti-pollution measures.

The Senate bill differs in some respects from one approved by the House earlier this month.

The Senate measure would authorize $70 million for the program in the next fiscal year, $80 million in the following.

Council To Meet

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United Nations Security Council was summoned Thursday to meet at 3 p.m. EDT next Tuesday to take up the situation in Portuguese Angola. The meeting was requested by 41 members of the Afro-Asian group and Yugoslavia in a letter delivered to the Security Council president.

L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration: "We don't know how far we are behind. I will tell you why: The Russians have shown us one basic rocket of about 800,000 pounds of thrust. This is their ICBM booster. They have used this throughout their space program.

"Until they show us the magnitude of the next step and when it is very difficult to get any fix on what their rate is. This is our problem.

"If they do not come out before early 1963 or 1964, then we will surpass them. Immediately two months later they might leapfrog us. We do not have any accurate information on what the next step will be that they are taking and when they will bring it out. We assume they are working on a bigger booster."

Dryden gave this estimate May 15 before a House appropriations subcommittee; his testimony was released Wednesday.

Crater-shaped buffalo wallows still scar the plains and prairies of the American west. Formed when 60 million bison roamed the continent, the wallows provided the animals with dust baths in dry weather and mud baths when it rained. Some wallows grew to miles in length.

Nearly one-half of the fatal home accidents occur either in bedrooms or on stairways. About 45 per cent of all corn in the United States goes into hogs.

NEW YORK (AP)—Wall Street seems confident that summer will bring even better things for the stock market.

This is in the face of the sharp advance this spring.

On the basis of historical precedent, chances are better than 8-1 that the market will be higher in August than in early June, said Spear & Staff, Inc., investment advisory service.

It pointed out that since 1897 there have been only seven years in which the Dow Jones industrial average didn't show a summer rally.

In those seven years the average decline was only 2.1 per cent while in the other 57 years the Dow showed an average gain of 12 per cent by the end of August.

"Difficult as summer rallies are to rationalize," said the service's president, Roger E. Spear, "the record is too strong to dismiss as mere coincidence. And, although the Dow has recently penetrated into new ground, we believe there is a strong possibility of a summer rally."

The brokerage firm, Arthur Wiesenberger & Co., agrees that summer markets are almost invariably strong.

It said it expects that any reaction the market may suffer may occur in the near future and that it would be a buying opportunity.

"Antitrust activity at home and international developments abroad may give the market temporary pause but the unfolding financial and economic situations are accumulating strength that should find a reflection in higher prices," the firm said.

More than ever, from now on, market advances will be led by the stock of blue-chip companies whose earnings will rise rapidly with returning prosperity, comments Gerard Gersen of the advisory organization, Wall Street International.

The best gains will be in cyclical issues — companies whose earnings declined in the recession but which are now staging good comebacks, he says.

Huge Ship Detector Mounted On Ship

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The biggest sound detection device ever floated has been mounted on a ship in the Navy's drive to build a long-range anti-submarine warning network, the Defense Department said Wednesday.

The device is five stories high, weighs hundreds of tons and uses enough electricity for a town of 50,000 persons. It consists of a powerful underwater sound transmitter with sensitive receivers for recording sound echoes.

The department gave no figures on its range. But such devices are expected to extend the range of submarine detection of hundreds of miles. Until now, the greatest range possible had been measured in tens of miles.

The announcement said a 17,340-ton Navy tanker, the Mission Capistrano is operating the new device. It will conduct experiments in an area running north from the Bahamas to Cape Hatteras and Bermuda.

The operation is part of "Project Artemis," a super-secret program to build a network of subsurface burglar alarms to protect America from Russia's undersea fleet estimated at 400 submarines.

Cost Report For Street Resurfacing Is Approved

The Mayor and Council Monday approved a cost report for the resurfacing of Cumberland Street from Tighman Street to Washington Street, but not before hearing several questions raised on the matter.

Mrs. Lyman Zeller, 32 Cumberland Street, said she did not feel she should have to pay for the surfacing since the street is no more than a "truck detour route."

City Engineer Charles R. Nuzum explained that the street is the only access Cumberland Cement and Supply Company has and coal trucks use it because of hilly terrain on other streets.

Robert C. Petersen, manager of the Chamber of Commerce who said he spoke as an interested citizen, supported Mrs. Zeller's contention and said only one individual property owner is affected by the paving cost, the remainder being owned by churches and industries. He said he felt Mrs. Zeller deserved some consideration.

James A. Shipe, 425 Cumberland Street, asked why the cost of alleys entrances and street intersections were included. Finance Commissioner Lucile Roeder said under the new 50-50 share plan, total cost is involved and the sum divided equally between the city and property owner. Formerly, the city paid cost of intersections and alley entrances and the property owner paid the remainder of the cost.

The city approved the cost report which showed property owners and the city paying $1.68½ per lineal foot. Total cost was $18,013.40 of which $9,006.70 is paid by the property owner and a like amount by the city.

Caroline Lusby, an Allegany High School senior, has been awarded a certificate of merit by the National Honor Society of the National Association of Secondary-School Principals in the sixteenth annual scholarship program.

Only highest ranking students of the school, selected senior members of the National Honor Society, can compete in the national contest and all of the participants are considered the highest ranking students throughout the country.

Caroline was selected for her General Aptitude Test score, Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test score, scholastic record, and school activity, leadership, and service record.

She is also a member of the Allegany Tri-Hi-Y. She participates in the Emmanuel Episcopal youth fellowship and church choir. In September she will enter Goucher College where she plans to major in English.

Second Phase Started In Youth Program

The youth placement program which was conducted May 13, 20 and 27 at the State Employment Service office by a group of teenage volunteers has moved into the second phase this week, according to Francis A. Kenney, manager of the Employment Service.

During the first Saturday of the program there were 80 Fort Hill High School students and 82 Allegany High students who registered. On the two succeeding Saturdays there were 120 students from the various parochial high schools and high schools from county communities.

The placement program was conducted by 12 teenage volunteers who had been trained in registering the students and other phases of the program.

This week the various employers who were contacted will send in their requests for student workers, many of whom will be part time employees. There are 22 types of work which were listed by the students for which they are fitted.

When the employers' requests are received then the referral of the students will be made. Kenney said the program had the support of the Allegany County Youth Commission and the results so far have been excellent.

Boys and girls who are 16, 17 or 18 were included in the group of registrants. The applicants were screened to determine their job qualifications in a number of endeavors.

The volunteer workers from local high schools were Arvella M. Alt, Gloria Bridges, Constance E. Clontz, Nancy L. Stouffer, and Timothy Barnes, all of Allegany High School; Peggy L. Fleckenstein, Peggy Jo Mackert, and Mary B. Morrissey, all of Ursuline Academy; George Petras and Robert J. VanHorn, both of LaSalle High School and Patrick S. Shannon and Bonnie J. Knippenberg, both of Fort Hill High School.

Finan Plans Legal Battle To Head Off Public Vote On Baltimore Court Plan

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—Thomas B. Finan, attorney general, announced Thursday he will go to court to try to forestall a public vote on expansion of Baltimore City's Municipal Court.

A petition filed Wednesday would put off addition of four judges and broadening of the court's jurisdiction until November of next year when the voters could pass on it.

Gov. Tawes called the Legislature into special session a week from Friday to draft some new laws to go ahead with the intended court enlargement pending the vote.

"But we cannot rely entirely on that session," Finan said. "We must try other methods."

A court move to scotch the referendum is one. Finan will argue the bill is not subject to petition by the people because they voted effective upon passage at the special session until the question was to establish a municipal court last year.

The question on the 1960 ballot called for 11 judges. The 1961 Legislature passed another act, raising the number to 15 and giving the court more jurisdiction over criminal cases.

This second bill is the object of the petition.

Drafters of bills for the special session aimed at getting around the petition face some fancy legal footwork.

The first thought had been to simply take the bill, which had an effective date of June 1, and label it emergency. This would make it voted upon next year.

But the constitutional section which provides for the right of the people to petition any bill to a vote also bars the Legislature from making an emergency out of any that creates new offices.

Thus, the emergency tag seemed out of the question for the four new judges. It also ruled out similar emergency establishment of a new commission to regulate building and loan associations.

Petitions for a referendum on the new agency also have been filed.

In order to put the first regulation of the industry into effect, the Legislature next week will put the administration temporarily under the State Department of Assessments.

U. Of Md. Prof Enters Contest For U.S. Senate

ANNAPOLIS (AP)—A University of Maryland professor Thursday became the first official candidate for the U.S. Senate seat now held by Republican John Marshall Butler.

Dr. Elbert M. Byrd Jr., Democrat, posted his $200 filing fee with the Secretary of State nearly a year in advance of the May 15, 1962, primary.

"One reason I am filing so early is I want to be certain that somebody brings to the attention of the people Butler's record in the Senate," Byrd said. "One way of making certain this is done is to do it myself."

Butler is completing his second six-year term in the Senate. He unseated Democrat Millard E. Tydings in 1950 and won reelection against George P. Mahoney in 1956.

Byrd, a 38-year-old assistant professor of government at the university, has not previously sought public office but has been active in Democratic politics in Prince Georges County and in the Young Democrats on a statewide basis.

A native of Wythe County, Va., he received his bachelor's, masters' and doctor's degrees from American University in Washington and did graduate work at Johns Hopkins University where he also taught political science. He has been a member of the government and politics department at the university since 1957.

$2 Million Increase In Tax On Employers Forecast

BALTIMORE (AP)—The unemployment fund tax paid by some 24,500 Maryland employees probably will be increased July 1, a state official predicted Thursday.

Stephen C. Cromwell, new director of the Department of Employment Security, said a $2 million hike in the taxes is inevitable because of recession and unemployment.

The tax on employers helps maintain the fund from which jobless benefits are paid. When the fund dips below a certain level, the tax must be increased. The current reserve is about $63.3 million.

To raise the additional $2 million needed in the year beginning July 1, all employers paying less than the maximum tax rate will face an increase of three-tenths of one per cent, Cromwell said. The minimum tax rate, now 1.5 per cent on the first $3,000 of wages paid each employee, would go up to 1.8 per cent.

Cromwell said the rate increase could have been as much as 2 per cent for some employers if the General Assembly had not lowered the "floor" below which the fund may not dip.

The higher taxes reflect demands made on the trust fund last year, a peak unemployment period.

Cromwell also announced special investigation units will be assigned to Western Maryland and the Eastern Shore to speed up detection of fraudulent claims against the fund.

"This is a preventive measure as much as it is punitive," the director said.

Cromwell, a Democrat who took over the job Thursday from Republican Robert B. Kimble, ranged over other topics in his first press conference.

He said emphasis will be placed on employment aspects of the department's program.

Pork Chops Can Be Given Gourmet Touch

Double thick pork chops stuffed with a savory blue cheese dressing might become an entree you'll rely on often this spring for company dinners. With pork attractively priced in most markets, it's possible once again to prepare one generously sized, juicy chop per person.

A special stuffing of crumbled American blue cheese, mushrooms, and a hint of onion tossed with bread crumbs transforms pork chops into a gourmet food fit for the most discriminating guests. Though only a relatively small amount of the blue-marbled cheese is required, its delicate pungency lends the final taste of elegance to the popular meat.

For a special meal, buy one chop per person and have it cut 1 to 1½ inches thick with a pocket slit in the side. Then prepare this well seasoned dressing:

Blue Cheese Stuffed Pork Chops

(Six servings)

6 double thick pork loin chops, with pockets cut
3 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon minced onion
¼ cup finely sliced mushrooms
½ cup crumbled American blue cheese (about 3 ounces)
¾ cup fine dry bread crumbs
Dash salt

Melt butter in skillet. Add onion and mushrooms. Cook 5 minutes. Remove from heat and stir in blue cheese, bread crumbs and fleck of salt. Stuff pockets in each chop with dressing. Secure with picks. Bake at 325 degrees for 1 hour or until meat is nicely browned and cooked through.

Teen-agers can often be encouraged to take good care of their own clothes by suggesting that two or three of them get together once a week to do their mending, repairs, ironing and washing. Then it's a party.

This Week In Congress by Rep. Charles Mathias

On Thursday of last week the United States Senate approved legislation to provide a $2.5 billion federal aid program to public elementary and secondary schools. The 49-32 roll call vote followed eight days of debate in the Senate.

Action is expected in the House on similar legislation next week. Under the provisions of the bill as passed by the Senate the State of Maryland will receive $13,656,061 in aid during the first year. A state's entitlement is determined by formulae based on per capita income and number of school age children. The amount of aid to the various states ranges from $9.25 per school age child in Connecticut to $27.74 per child in South Carolina and Mississippi. Maryland's entitlement would be $17.20 per school age child. It also included impacted area aid in the same bill. As you already know, I have fully supported impacted area aid to schools, but I oppose the attempt to force it into a single educational package with new proposals that require separate consideration and debate.

The legislation that provides aid for public elementary and secondary schools has been the subject of extended coverage by the news media and as a result, other legislation providing for aid to higher education is not as familiar to the public as its importance requires that it should be. On May 23 the House Education and Labor Committee reported the so-called Higher Education Bill to the House of Representatives, and since I discussed such a program during the campaign, I would like to review it with you.

The Higher Education Bill provides for loans and grants for construction of academic facilities for higher education over a period of five years. The bill authorizes expenditures of $180 million per year in grants to all accredited private and public colleges, universities, junior colleges and community colleges. In order to receive a grant for construction of academic facilities, the recipient would be required to provide funds on a matching basis. The formula of matching funds provides that the Federal Government may assume up to one third of the total cost. The bill also provides $120 million per year in loans for the same purpose.

A program of assistance grants for needy students of superior ability is included in the bill. During the first year of operation of the program, a total of $30 million would be appropriated for the use of deserving students to meet college costs. An increase to $60 million would be provided for each subsequent year.

No student would be eligible for more than one thousand dollars in assistance. A qualified student would be eligible for these grants during his first two years in college. The administrative costs of this program will be entirely assumed by the participating colleges and universities.

This program is designed to supplement and extend the student-loan program under the National Defense Education Act.

Chesapeake And Ohio Canal

For 30 years the historic associations and natural beauty of the Potomac Valley and the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal have been recognized as worthy of preservation. At one time, this recognition was purely local, but it is now widespread. I am glad to note the nationwide interest which exists in the Potomac Valley and the Chesapeake & Ohio Canal National Park. Evidence of this interest is found in an editorial in the New York Times published on May 22, 1961. Since this editorial deals directly with the subject matter of H. R. 4684 and S. 77, I thought it worthy of passing on to you.

"The valley of the Potomac River is still largely unspoiled. For 180 miles, from Cumberland, Maryland, to the Nation's Capital, it cuts through historic land — a surprising amount of it still wilderness — accompanied by the famous old Chesapeake & Ohio Canal. A rarity among rivers, the Potomac has not been used heavily by industry; it traverses the fringe of the excessively urban, highly commercialized eastern seaboard.

"This fringe position has protected the Potomac in many ways, but each year encroachments threaten. They are worse this year than last, and were worse than that the year before. The bulldozers come closer, the unspoiled areas shrink. Each session recently Congress has considered legislation to ward off that encroachment by converting the long C&O Canal, with some adjacent acreage, into a national historical park.

"We submit that there is no more time for delay. Protecting the Nation's natural resources, providing areas for recreation, and appreciation of the very land which gives us strength, is increasingly urgent. The Chesapeake & Ohio Canal National Historical Park may well prove to be the central park for the eastern seaboard's coming megalopolis. Its need has been strongly endorsed by the Kennedy administration. Congress should assure its preservation now."

Last week President Kennedy addressed a joint session of Congress on high priority legislative requests. As he had stated in his inaugural address, on January 20th, and in public statements since that time, the President repeated a call on the people of America to make additional sacrifices in order to secure our national needs. The President asked Congress to appropriate large sums of money to meet what he described as an "extraordinary challenge."

The President stated that the sacrifices would not include additional taxes. He did not, however, specify what sacrifices he was asking to be made. We have learned from the past that it is not wise to rely on an anticipated increase in revenue from a stimulated economy. If the funds are not available to meet the cost of this program as the expenditures are made the resulting deficit in the budget and increase in the national debt will place the resulting burden of debt on future taxpayers, as well as loss through inflation on ourselves. The people of the United States have always been willing to make necessary sacrifices in times of crisis. I hope the people will have an opportunity to know all of the facts, and to resolve to make their sacrifice on the solid ground of what is true, what is right and what is necessary.

Cuban deal: paying an extortionist—The offer of the Red dictator of Cuba to release 1200 Cuban prisoners, captured in a revolutionary battle, on condition that we send 500 tractors as indemnity for war damage, would make it appear that the U.S.A. had been to war and had been defeated and must now pay tribute. How much more humiliation must we suffer at the hands of this Soviet stooge? It does not improve our position to have a self-appointed committee of prominent American citizens say that they will raise the money and pay the extortion. They're raising $20,000,000 for Castro—$40,000 for each tractor or bulldozer! Must be the big heavy kind, suitable for building airfields and trenches and missile bases, which can be used against us. To say the least, the 500 tractors and bulldozers could be used by Castro to help make Communism work in Cuba. Do the people putting up the $20,000,000 want that? And while we're questioning what people want, just what did the 60-odd Harvard professors have in mind when they published a newspaper advertisement condemning a strong U.S. stand in Red Cuba?

It would seem that we have reached a new low.

Who would have expected to see the day when a Red dictator 90 miles from our shores would demand of us bulldozers and tractors in exchange for freedom for some of his own countrymen? And who would have expected to see red-blooded Americans fawn and bow to the demand? Back in school days we studied about that proud time in our history when a young United States took up the cry, "Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute!" Is it not time that we again proclaimed that principle? Is it not time to take stock of ourselves and our principles—if we are to fulfill our destiny as a "land of the free" and "home of the brave?"

Humanitarian principles are involved in the present situation, and of course all of us want freedom for those Cubans. This is no less true because they are Cubans and were fighting in their own country in a revolutionary movement, fully aware of the chances they were taking. But can we with honor free them by paying tribute, which the world will look upon as "war indemnity" paid by a "defeated U.S.A." to a "victorious Castro?" Aside from this prestige angle, people who pay extortion always regret it. He who pays an extortionist usually must keep on paying. If we should now yield to the demands of Castro, we would lay our selves wide open for more such demands—from Cuba and elsewhere throughout the world. Winston Churchill once said, "An appeaser hopes that if he feeds the crocodile enough, the crocodile will eat him last."

If it should be up to us to free those 1200 Cubans, there should be an honorable, courageous way of doing it—as when President Eisenhower unleashed the marines in the successful Lebanon landing of 1958—certainly not by any weak-kneed payment of extortion.

I do not see how this country can hold up its head to the rest of the world if we permit this payment of ransom.

Federal aid to education: snare and delusion—It looks as though the Congress and the President may saddle on the people a back-breaking, unwieldy load called "Federal Aid to Education." Although it's called "aid", it takes away from the people more dollars than it gives. I have observed that those who favor "Federal Aid to Education" avoid facing the simple truth: the very people who get the "aid" are soaked for it! Proponents of "Federal Aid" seem to go along blithely on the assumption that what one gets from the Federal government is free. Far from it! As the Federal government is dead broke, without a dime, and heavily in debt, what it "gives" it must take away from the taxpayer. When you look at what you pay on your income taxes and see how little you have left when your next pay comes around, regardless of what you make, due not only to the big chunk which goes for income taxes but also to the thousand hidden taxes, then you can begin to realize who it is that pays for all the "give-away."

Here's a little lesson in government economy. If you want one dollar's worth of aid in your home or in your local school, you can get it for exactly one dollar. If you want your State government to administer the dollar's worth of aid, then it will cost you a little more than one dollar because of the cost of administration. If you want the dollar's worth of aid to come back to you after it makes a round trip to Washington and is tied up in a package marked "Federal Aid," then it will cost you a lot more—$1.53, if you live in Maryland. The Tax Foundation reports that Maryland is paying $1.53 for each $1 it gets in aid. All Federal aid and grants to Maryland, Maryland counties and municipalities, and Maryland people during the fiscal year of 1960 came to a total of $78,200,000; the estimated tax burden on Maryland people for this aid amounted to $119,700,000. You see, when your "aid" dollars make a round trip to Washington, you lose a lot.

There's been much hypocrisy about schools. Proponents of the 2,500-MILLION-DOLLAR Federal-Aid-to-Education bill have been silent about the wonderful job the people have been doing for themselves and their schools without Washington interference. During the past 10 years, while school enrollment was increasing 44%, school expenditures increased 153%—to 16.4 billion dollars. Without a cent of "Federal money," teachers' salaries rose to an average of $5,389—a jump of 74%, while the nation's average per capita income was rising 30%. The worst of the school population explosion is over; during the next 10-year period the estimated increase will be only 20%, as compared with 44% for the past 10-year period. In 1958, the nation's classroom shortage was estimated to be 600,000. In 1959, the shortage had shrunk to 132,000. Classrooms are now being built by States and localities, without "Federal money," at a rate of 68,000 a year, which, if maintained, would soon produce a classroom surplus rather than a shortage.

Despite claims to the contrary, the States and localities have not been wrung dry by these Herculean accomplishments; as a matter of fact, only 237 of the nation's 40,000 school districts are found to be "borrowed up" to their limit. Incidentally, while proponents of the Federal-Aid-to-Education bill have argued that the States cannot continue these efforts on the same level, the bill itself provides that the States must continue to operate on the same level or forfeit part of the Federal aid. Some States and many localities are entirely free of debt. All are much better off than the Federal government, which now proposes to aid them.

The cost will be reflected in increased Federal taxes—sooner or later.

Obviously, I opposed the measure.

A return to fundamental Americanism—Did you hear the heart-warming story about the little

New Way To Bake Turkey

Big whopper or small size, a modern turkey offers plenty of meat, the breast wide and deep with tender white meat, legs and thighs plump and juicy with dark meat. And now that turkey is with us the year around, new ideas keep popping up on ways to cook and serve it. This Baked Barbecue Turkey is one.

Turkey baked this way comes to the table smoking hot, breathing forth a delicious aroma, with a rosy cast over the rich oven brown. That's because it's been blanketed under a thick and zesty sauce that in the baking almost forms a delicate crust. And the sauce? Canned apple sauce blended with ketchup (which accounts for the rosy color), and onion and Worcestershire and other seasonings. So you get a hint of lively apple tang, a nice bite of ketchup spiciness, the little bite of onion all added to the benign, rich flavor of the turkey itself... and savory going it is.

With this turkey as the flavor hub of your meal, all you need add is a green salad, French bread, a light dessert... and you have a feast.

This is such a simple way to bake a turkey, yet so tempting and appetizing a way, that the turkey can be served for either family meals or guest meals. It's a dish with equal appeal for rousing big appetites and light, calorie-conscious ones—a perfect bet for any hostess, and a happy town of Italy, Texas, which was hit and nearly destroyed by a tornado. The people of the community set to work to repair the damage, and in the midst of their work a telegram from Washington arrived, informing them that their town had been classified as a "disaster area" and entitled to Federal aid. The citizens, led by the mayor and city council, met and decided to send a wire rejecting the offer of assistance, assuring Washington that the people of Italy, Texas, are quite capable of looking after their own problems. Their telegram said: "The Federal government is in far more distress financially than we are. Use the money to reduce the National debt."

Carrot Raisin Slaw Retains Its Popularity

The carrot raisin slaw that was standard lunchroom fare when many of us were in school, still is a delicious healthful salad.

Today, though, it often has a bit of cheese folded into it, giving a nourishing protein lift. American blue cheese—one of the zestier flavored cheeses—is an excellent choice for this slightly sweet vegetable fruit combination. It contributes a pleasing "bite" to the crisp mixture, not to mention the extra amounts of protein, calcium and phosphorus it provides.

This is a family type salad to remember for dinner when the meal seems a bit skimpy.

To make it combine 2 cups grated raw carrots and 1 cup seedless raisins. Mix together 1 teaspoon sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup mayonnaise and ½ cup crumbled American blue cheese. Stir the dressing into carrots and raisins, tossing lightly. Serve in lettuce cups.

Spicy Apple Juice Sauce

¼ cup sugar
2 tablespoons cornstarch
¾ teaspoon nutmeg
2 cups apple juice
1 egg yolk

Combine sugar, cornstarch and nutmeg; add apple juice. Cook, stirring constantly, until thickened. Beat egg yolk; add hot sauce gradually. Cook, stirring constantly, until slightly thickened. Serve hot.

The bidding:
South West North East
1♥ Pass 2♥ Pass
3♦ Pass 4♦ Pass
6♥ Pass Pass Pass
Opening lead: Jack of ♠

There are a few remaining holdouts who will dispute the merits of our current method of hand valuation, a method which has done more than anything else to improve the quality of bidding during the last few years. But it is not to be presumed that the science of bidding ends with the precision of valuation, for in suit bidding the hazards of duplication will occasionally play havoc with high card values and the question at issue will frequently be not merely "How much have you?" but "Where is it?"

South in today's hand recognized this principle and, tho his partner responded to his opening bid in a manner that is not generally regarded as encouraging, he nevertheless did not abandon all hope for a slam. From South's standpoint, if North's raise contained good trump support and something in diamonds, there should be at worst a finesse for the slam. But how was he to determine whether partner had anything in diamonds?

This he managed to do by a peculiar device, one which some players might regard as a psychic bid, namely three diamonds. To be sure, this is a distinctly unorthodox bid and will not be found in any authorized texts. But actually it was not South's intention to practice deception. In bidding three diamonds he was incurring no real risk, since the textbook provides that when a major suit has been supported and the opener names another suit it constitutes a one round force. North would have to respond to the three diamond bid, and if nothing interesting developed he could settle for game in hearts on the next round.

North, recognizing that South was out fishing and holding a near maximum raise, quite properly raised to four diamonds. His original raise was very sound, and he saw no reason to conceal his diamond values. With this slight encouragement South bid six hearts. Since two diamonds could be obtained on dummy's diamonds the slam was assured without reliance on the club finesse. Note that if North had not held the ten of diamonds declarer would still have had a chance on the club finesse.

On the other hand, if North had held just as much but in the club suit instead of in diamonds, there would have been no slam, since two diamond losers would be inevitable. North had it in the right places, and South was resourceful enough to find it out.

Buttered Apple Filling

Heat canned apple slices in butter, add brown sugar. Stir gently until sugar is melted. Spoon between layers of pancakes. Serve with maple syrup.

Salmon Rice With Kebabs

- 1 pound can salmon
- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons butter or other fat, melted
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed consommé
- 1 cup uncooked rice
- 18 mushrooms
- 3 green peppers
- 3 tomatoes
- 1/2 cup butter or other fat, melted

Drain salmon. Break salmon into large pieces. Cook onion in butter until tender. Add water and consommé; bring to a boil. Place rice, salmon, and consommé mixture in a well-greased 2-quart casserole. Stir. Bake covered, in a moderate oven, 350°F., for 35 minutes or until rice is tender. While rice is baking, wash mushrooms, green peppers, and tomatoes. Cut tomatoes and green peppers into sixths. Remove stems from mushrooms. Alternate tomatoes, mushrooms, and green peppers on 6 skewers, 7 inches each. Place on a greased broiler pan. Brush kebabs with butter. Broil about 3 inches from source of heat for 3 minutes. Turn carefully; brush other side with butter and broil 3 minutes longer. Serve salmon-rice mixture on a platter with kebabs over top. Serves 6.

If your broiled hamburgers do not get that charred look that is so inviting, try brushing them with melted butter or margarine before they go under the heat.

Congressional Viewpoint by Sen. John M. Butler

The President has left for a summit meeting with Premier Khrushchev in Vienna this weekend. Mr. Kennedy is to make the same climb up the steep slopes which ended in disappointment and even defeat for Presidents Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower.

President Kennedy has explained his going to the summit in this way: (1) it is "indispensable" under existing conditions for leaders of major nations to have a personal understanding of those with whom they must deal; and (2) the effort to determine areas of possible agreement must never be relinquished. The Chief Executive undoubtedly feels that a personal meeting with the Soviet premier will enable him to judge the man and what he might do more effectively. I hope, however, that the President will not use any personal impressions about Khrushchev to gloss over the bloody, cruel history of the man. And, while it is well and good that the United States seek areas of possible agreement, this Nation must not flinch from looking at the very real and very large areas of disagreement between us and the Soviets.

The President is expected to bring up nuclear testing, which has been dragging on a Geneva for 2 1/2 years, and Laos, where the communists have ignored the cease-fire by continuing to expand their sphere of influence. Premier Khrushchev is expected to counter with Berlin, a lonely lighthouse in a sea of darkness, and total disarmament, with its unspecified controls and inspections to follow at some dim distant time.

But there are other areas, so often declared "off-limits" at a summit conference. I refer to the Hungarian Rebellion of 1956; to the Tibetan genocide of 1958; to the current crises in Vietnam and in Cuba and to the captive nations of Eastern Europe which wait patiently (and hopelessly) for the free elections promised them 15 years ago.

Whether they like it or not, President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev will not be alone in Vienna — a "third man" will sit down with them. He will have no one name but a thousand different names. He will be a Hungarian, a Tibetan, a Vietnamese, a Berliner, a Cuban. He will be Everyman, anxious to be reassured, to be told everything is going to be all right. But agreement in the past at the summit has always been agreement on Soviet terms. And an optimistic communique this weekend will bode ill for the U. S. and the West if it means that we have bought a few months of "peace" at the price of another area of freedom.

Maple Apple Topping

Swirl maple syrup through a bowl of apple sauce without mixing thoroughly. Top sizzling hot pancakes with generous spoonful and serve at once.

You can launder lace tablecloths by machine as well as by hand, but either way you should use warm—not hot—suds and no excess water without wringing or twisting; do not dry in machine.

To clean shower curtains quickly and easily, just half-fill bathtub with water and add suds or other cleaner. Wash, rinse and bleach. After rinsing squeeze out hang in place to dry, spreading them out and hand-smoothing them.

State Controls Water Systems, County Reports

The Board of Commissioners of Allegany County Monday directed that Dr. Ton van Strien, deputy county health officer, be informed that public water systems are under the jurisdiction of the Maryland Department of Health and not the concern of the County Health Board.

The doctor had written the board last Friday pointing out that a number of small water companies in the county were faced with a serious situation concerning the purity of their water supplies.

The commissioners, who serve also as the County Health Board, said they supervise wells and springs that serve as water supplies, but that public water companies come under the jurisdiction of the state.

The commissioners are setting up a meeting with Dr. Van Strien to discuss a number of other matters that come under their supervision as a health board.

The board received a communication from Louis A. Fatkin, county juvenile magistrate, that William E. Hideo is returning to his former position as clerk of Juvenile Court. The magistrate inquired about the possibility of retaining Miss Barbara Frantz, who replaced Hideo, explaining that the press of duties in juvenile matters is increasing.

Celanese Sales At 1960 Level

NEW YORK (AP)—Second quarter profit and sales of Celanese Corp. of America should be close to the results of the second quarter of 1960, President Herold Blancke predicted Thursday sales and income for the first three months of the year fell behind year earlier levels.

Blancke said sales for the current three months should approach $74 million and earnings would be above 50 cents a share. In the June quarter of 1960 the company cleared 55 cents a share on sales of $70.7 million. In the second quarter of 1959 sales were $68.7 million and profit equal to 60 cents a share.

In the March quarter this year Celanese reported sales of $62 million and per share earnings of 32 cents compared with $66.7 million shares and 50 cents a share a year earlier.

Celanese makes acetate fibers chemicals and plastics. Macbeth is among 60 monarchs of Scotland, Ireland and Norway buried in the graveyard of kings on Iona, Scotland's sacred isle. The three-mile-long island of rock and heather was a beacon of Western Christianity in the 7th century.

Suspects Indicted

ELIZABETH, N.J. (UPI)—Two car washers were indicted for first degree murder Thursday in the rape-slayings of two middle-aged matrons, the wives of nationally known business executives.

The Union County grand jury returned the indictments against Joseph Maxey, 23, of Plainfield, N.J., and Loretta Parks Jr., 22, of Dunnellen, N.J.

The indictments were returned six days after the brutal early-morning slayings of Mrs. Elliott Ewell, 51, of Westfield, N.J., the wife of an executive vice president of Mack Trucks Inc., and Mrs. Robert Tyson, 50, of Plainfield, the wife of a Wall Street bond broker.

$500 In Prizes To Be Awarded In Firemen's Parade

Prizes totaling $500 will be awarded to winning units in the line of march during the parade that will highlight the 49th annual convention of the Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association, next Wednesday at Bowling Green.

George Mahaney, chairman of the parade committee, said $300 of the prize money will be earmarked for member units of the two-county association, with the balance going to non-member groups.

The parade will form at 7 p. m. on the day of the convention, and move off promptly at 7:30, with the line of march being out U. S. Route 220.

For member units, $100 will be awarded to the best appearing company with band; $50 each will go to the best appearing company, to the company with the most men in line, and to the company with the largest percentage of men in line.

Awards of $25 have been set aside for the company traveling the longest distance to participate, and to the best drilled company, Mahaney said.

The Bowling Green Fire Company, host unit for the convention, also will award $15 to the best appearing auxiliary with 10 or more in the line of march. The convention will open at 10 a. m. next Wednesday, with separate meetings scheduled at that time for the association and its auxiliary. The men will meet in the Fire Hall and the women in the social hall of St. Matthew's United Church of Christ.

Following luncheon, a combined meeting will be held at 1 p. m. at the Fire Hall. A joint memorial service will be conducted at 4 p. m. at St. Matthew's Church, after which the convention dinner will be held at the Fire Hall.

Harry Speaks Out

NEW YORK (UPI)—Harry S. Truman said Thursday that Dominican dictator Rafael Trujillo might have expected his fate.

"I don't like government by assassination," the former President told newsmen here, "but it has been the end of all dictators from Julius Caesar on down."

Truman also said he saw no reason for applauding former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration.

"I gave him the most orderly turnover of government that any president has ever had and he never appreciated it," Truman said.

Says Planes Obsolete

OTTAWA (UPI)—Defense Minister Douglas Harkness said Thursday that 11 obsolete jet interceptors at Westbourne, Man., scrap dealer wants to sell to Cuba or Israel were "unfit for flying" when the Canadian government recently disposed of them.

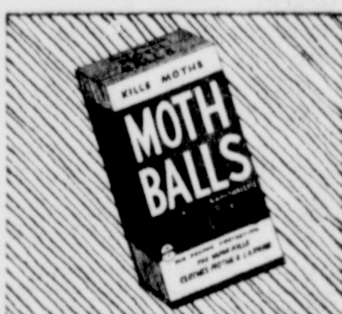

Harkness said the Canadian-made CF100s had been stripped of their fire control, armament, hydraulic equipment, most of the instruments and "key" airframe parts without which the planes cannot be flown. He said several hundred thousand dollars would have to be spent on each plane to make them flyable.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD — Lucille Ball has at last seen the light. She is going to give her health a break, and is closing down her hit show "Wildcat" for nine weeks as well as calling off her TV spectacular, "Lucy Comes to Broadway" which was to have beamed June 12. It wasn't an easy decision for her to make, she worries so about contracts and obligations. But I say—good for Lucy in finally considering her health.

Despite her doctor keeping her resting, Lucille got up over the weekend to see her boyfriend, comedian Gary Morton, who emceed the show starring Tony Martin at the Concord Hotel. She took her two children with her, and Tony brought nine-year-old Lucy up on the stage, and sang "Thank Heaven for Little Girls" to her. Need I add that mamma led the applause?

Italian producer Dino De Laurentiis continues to raid the Broadway cast of "Becket." Via transatlantic telephone he closed with Arthur Kennedy to portray Pontius Pilate in "Barabbas."

You remember Kennedy had replaced Anthony Quinn in this show after De Laurentiis had pre-empted Tony for the same movie. Now Arthur ankles "Becket" to join Quinn in "Barabbas" in Rome. He leaves New York immediately because the picture is already in production and his scenes start Monday.

Don't know yet what this will do to "Becket" which is still going strong with Sir Laurence Olivier.

Getting in and out of the Waldorf Towers while President Kennedy was there took a lot of doing. There were secret Service men on top of the building, all over the lobby and on every floor. A pretty Spanish elevator operator was in seventh heaven because the President had ridden up and down in her car.

Traffic was so congested that the chauffeur trying to get in to take us to dinner at Leone's, had his car smashed by a taxi. The sidewalk as far as the eye could see were packed solid with people hoping for a glimpse of the young president. You see carbon copies of Jackie Kennedy everywhere you look in New York.

The Eleanor Roosevelt Cancer dinner which President Kennedy attended before planning to France, Hollywood was well represented on the dais—Marlene Dietrich, Henry Fonda, Shelley Winters, Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward. Bob Hope singled out Marlene for one of his quips. He said her father should have won the Nobel Prize for "Architecture."

The plan is to run as many talented newcomers as they have under contract into showcase roles in "Lovers Must Learn" which Warner Bros. headman Jack Warner tells me will star Troy Donahue. Troy continues to head practically every fan magazine poll as the No. 1 man in popularity with the teenagers.

This Irving Fineman novel will mark the fourth picture Donahue has made with director Delmer Daves—and it also calls for a nice summer "vacation" in Europe while shooting exteriors. Delmar has already left for Italy to scout locations with Troy and others of the casting joining him in July. It was Delmer who brought Troy to fame in "Summer Place" followed by "Parrish" and Susan Slade.

If director Mervyn Leroy weren't of a sentimental turn of heart—Sharon Huguely wouldn't have been able to leave with bridegroom Bob Evans for their Honolulu honeymoon. Just prior to their marriage it was discovered that Sharon would be needed for several added scenes in "A Majority of One" with Roz Russell at Warners. When the nervous bride-to-be was ordered to stand by—she burst into tears.

Then someone told Mervyn—and he said to let Sharon off the hook. He arranged to shoot the scene from such a non-revealing camera angle that he could use a double who looked like Sharon from a distance.

Didn't get to see Stella Stevens while she was plugging "Too Late Blues" (her Bobby Darin movie) in New York although I hear her romance with theater exhibitor Mervyn Shapiro is blooming.

When Stella slipped out of town she did it quietly. Her destination was not Hollywood—but her hometown Memphis, where the hearings on her custody battle for her son Andy started on Wednesday. Stella is keeping her fingers crossed that things will go her way and that she will be permitted to bring Andy to California with her in time to celebrate his sixth birthday June 10.

Snapshots of New York and Hollywood collected at random:

Reports from London are that Patricia Neal and writer Raoul Dahl are expecting their fourth baby. They have earned the admiration of everyone for the way they have stood up to the horrifying accident of their baby's carriage being hit by an automobile. The child will have to undergo periodical brain surgery for its entire life.

A romance that seems to have blossomed in the wake of the Sharon Huguely-Bob Evans wedding is between Leticia Roman (a bridesmaid) and Joe Picone, Bob's partner in the dress business.

Director John Ford came back to Hollywood from Paducah, Ky., where he's shooting "How the West was Won" to pick up John Wayne and then set for Reno where both will attend the post-humous silver spur award to the late Ward Bond, their buddy, on Saturday.

King Kennedy had a call from Donna Atwood in Moscow telling him that Khrushchev attended the opening of her ice capades show and not only applauded loudly, but he and Mrs. K sent her flowers. Which is more than he did for the "Can Can" stars in Hollywood.

The post recession boom is on at Hollywood Park Race Track—63,000 attending Memorial Day when president Mervyn Leroy hosted Rox Russell and Freddie Brissson, the Jack Boltons, Jack Warner and Mrs. Harry Warner in the directors room.

Terry Hunt, well-known Hollywood health expert and conditioner, and his wife Hope, welcomed a 9-pound boy has been named John Kevin. No doubt Terry will have him chinning himself in a few weeks.

Speaking of babies—John Clark Gable sent out his own invitations (in his mother's handwriting) to attend his christening June 11 at St. Cyril's Church in Encino—and added, "after I'm christened, please come to the ranch where I live for a sip of champagne."

Remember Lorraine Bendix, daughter of the Bill Bendix's, who was having such a difficult overweight problem? Friends in Palm Springs postcard me that Lorraine was dining with her parents at Milton Kreis' On The Rocks Restaurant, and she is now much slimmer.

So grateful is Sandra Dee to Ross Hunter for holding "In the Wrong Rain" for her until after he baby is born, she has volunteered to go out on tour with "Tammy Tell Me True" starting June 20 to plug their picture. Going along with Sandy are Virginia Grey and Julia Meade.

Judy Garland gets $25,000 for a single night when she appears at the Forest Hills Musical Festival on July 1.

Veteran Teachers Feted By Barton Alumni Group

BARTON — The Barton Alumni Association held its annual dinner last Saturday night in the recreation hall of the Presbyterian Church. A dance followed in the fire hall.

At the conclusion of the dinner and a business meeting, two veteran teachers were honored. They are Mrs. Dora McLuckie and Miss Martha McDonaldson.

Mrs. McLuckie, who graduated from Barton High School in 1910, is a 1912 graduate of Frostburg Normal School, now Frostburg State Teachers College. Two Keyser High Grads Are Top Students At PSC

KEYSER—Two Keyser students, Jonathan C. Burgess and Mrs. Kathryn Simpson, have been announced by Dean K. S. McKee as being top honor students in the 1961 graduating class at Potomac State College.

Burgess has had an average of 3.691 for two years. Mrs. Simpson's two-year average is 3.640. (A straight "A" average would be 4.000). Both are Keyser High School graduates.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd C. Burgess, Stony Run Addition, Burgess has been a pre-engineering major. He is planning to continue his studies in chemical engineering at West Virginia University. Recently he was given runnerup honors for the VFW citizenship award at the annual Recognition Day program. His Potomac State activities included membership in Phi Sigma Nu fraternity, Roth Military Honor Society, Engineers Club, Pasquino staff and Sigma Phi Omega Honor Society.

Mrs. Simpson, whose husband is Homer L. Simpson, 180 Fort Avenue, is the daughter of Mrs. P. E. DeMuth and the late Mr. DeMuth. The Simpsons have two sons, Homer L. Jr., 19, a Navy airman at the Naval Electronics School, Memphis, Tenn., and Charles Dean, 14, who is completing Eighth Grade studies at Keyser Junior High.

She was graduated from Keyser High School in 1940 and was married July 3, 1940. Eighteen years later she decided to return to school and entered Potomac State for Summer School. The following spring and summer she took courses in English and biology.

Mrs. Simpson became a full-time student in pre-education the fall of 1959. Having completed her first two years successfully, she now plans to enter Frostburg State Teachers College in the fall to continue her training in elementary education.

FSTC Student Will Study In Paris During Summer

FROSTBURG — Miss Lynn McSpadden, Washington Street, Havre de Grace, sophomore at Frostburg State Teachers College, will study at the Sorbonne in Paris this summer.

This is not her first trip abroad, as she spent the summer of 1957 as an exchange student of the American Field Service in West Sector, Berlin, Germany. While there she lived with a German family and attended some classes at the Berlin University.

At the college here, she is a member of Alpha Xi Delta Sorority and is secretary of the Junior Class.

Under the program called Study Abroad, Inc., operated under the auspices of Temple University, Miss McSpadden will attend grammar and literature classes each morning and gain first hand information through afternoon tours of Paris.

She will sail from New York City, June 22, and will arrive back in this country, September 1. She will arrive in Paris just as the equivalent of the Mardi Gras is underway—Bastille Day. On July 14, the citizens of Paris rope off the streets, dance and make merry in much the same manner as New Orleans observes its Mardi Gras.

Miss Irene Kirkeby, French instructor at State, brought this trip to the attention of the French Club.

NOTICE
The management of St. Michael's Cemetery, Frostburg, Maryland, hereby wishes to serve notice on all owners of lots in St. Michael's Cemetery. Henceforth, we intend to enforce strictly those regulations explicitly stated on every deed under the heading "Extracts from Rules of St. Michael's Cemetery, Frostburg, Maryland."

Section 2 states that "no fence, figure, railing, tree, shrub or mound shall be permitted on lots." All trees, shrubs and plants, therefore, must be removed.

Section 3. "All lots should be level and be clothed with a durable lawn grass. The lot owner expressly agrees to keep the grass neatly trimmed and free from weeds, briars and plants of every species." Perpetual care is available to maintain a lot in the above-mentioned condition after the initial cost of repairing the lot.

Section 4. Monuments erected in St. Michael's Cemetery must be supported by concrete foundations not less than six feet in depth and in proportion to size and weight of monument. Since no new monuments are now permitted in St. Michael's Cemetery, this pertains only to those already erected, many of which are badly in need of repairs to both foundation and stone. If repairs are not made to such monuments within sixty days from May 31, 1961, these monuments which are considered dangerous by the management will be removed and sold to defray the cost of repairing the lots.

In the future only headstones and corner-posts placed level with the ground will be permitted.

Lay helpers still are needed in some areas. Persons who want to volunteer for an hour or two may call the neighborhood chairman, or may go to the dispensing center when they are free to work. The doctor in charge will find a job for them.

People who live outside Allegany County are welcome to come to the centers. Doctors want everyone between three months and 45 years of age to take the vaccine, but anyone who wants it may have it.

Three men were found guilty of unemployment compensation fraud charges yesterday when they appeared in Trial Magistrate Court before Magistrate Paul W. Barnett.

Roland Myers, 324 Estelle Street, pleaded not guilty to a charge of making false statements during a four week period in January and February 1960, to obtain benefits of $72 while he received earnings of $66.75. Magistrate Barnett found him guilty and sentenced him to 90 days in County Jail.

Jury Affirms Compensation Appeal Here

An Allegany County Circuit Court petit jury deliberated over two hours yesterday afternoon before reaching a verdict in favor of the plaintiff in the appeal case of a decision of the State Workmen's Compensation Commission.

Danford W. Thorpe, 26, of 1214 Lafayette Avenue, was the claimant in the case and the Mauk Construction Company the employer.

Thorpe slipped while carrying a concrete block on March 2, 1957, and injured his back, according to testimony.

On March 11 this year the Workmen's Compensation Commission passed an order finding the claimant sustained a permanent partial disability under "other cases" amounting to 15 per cent industrial loss use of his body as a result of the injury to his back.

Mauk appealed and said the claimant did not sustain any permanent partial disability as a result of the accident and asked for a jury trial in court.

The petit jury yesterday decided the claimant did sustain a permanent partial disability of his body amounting to 15 per cent industrial loss of the use of his body.

After hearing testimony during the morning the jurors got the case about noon and deliberated for about an hour before asking to be excused to eat lunch.

After lunch they again began deliberating and reached their verdict at 3:40 p. m. Associate Judge W. Earl Cobey presided at the trial.

Albert E. Beckman was the foreman of the jury which included 11 men and one woman. Thorpe was represented by Attorney Edward J. Ryan and James Alfred Avirett was attorney for the Mauk firm.

Building Permits Are Issued Here

Two Allegany County residents have been issued building permits, James G. Stevenson, clerk of the Board of Commissioners, said yesterday.

Charles Dressman, RD 1, Cumberland, was issued a permit to construct a frame and brick dwelling at a cost of about $14,000. It will have a concrete block foundation, composition roof and a basement, and will measure 30 by 40 feet.

Edgar L. Biser of McCoole, plans to build a kitchen to his present dwelling at a cost of about $1,000. The addition will measure eight by 24 feet, will have a concrete block foundation and a composition roof.

Celtics Sign Jones

BOSTON (UPI) — Sam Jones, Boston Celtics basketball star, has signed a new two year contract, according to owner Walter Brown. Jones is the seventh member of the squad to return his signed contract. Last season he had his best year with the Celtics, scoring 1,158 in 78 games. In the season's finale at Syracuse he notched 44 points, his career high with the Celtics.

Canada CupAustralian Team
Is Runner-Up

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP) — Uncle Sam's "century club," Sam Snead and Jimmy DeMaret, breezed into the first round lead in the ninth Canada Cup International golf competition Thursday in a manner as airy as the tradewinds sweeping the plush Dorado Beach course.

Sam and Jimmy, whose ages total 100 years, put together rounds of 67 and 73 that gave the defending champion United States a huge lead in the two-man team competition with a 140 total for the day. Snead's 5-under-par 67 put him just as safely on top in the race for the individual championship.

The strong Australian team pretournament favorite, moved into second place with a 143 total on a 69 by Peter Thomson, four-time winner of the British Open championship and 73 by Kel Nagle, reigning British Open champion. Canada's Al Balding and Ben Arda of the Philippines also had 69s, and tied Thomson for second in the individual race.

Par for the 7,115-yard Dorado Beach course on the shores of the Caribbean is 36-36-72 and few of the 66-man field could beat it.

At 71 were Dave Thomas of Wales, John Pantone of Scotland and a surprising ex-caddie from Egypt, Mohammed Said Mousa. In the team event Wales was third with 144 and the Philippines fourth with 145. Egypt, Argentina, and Colombia had 146 totals and Mexico, China, Ireland, Scotland and Canada had 147s.

Three more rounds must be played before the team and individual titles are decided in this 33-nation championship. It appears unlikely that the unknowns will have more than one good round over the windswept and heat-drenched course. It's even doubtful that the 51-year-old DeMaret, who said he felt weak in the humid heat, will continue to score as well as he did Thursday.

BOSTON (AP) — Slugger Vic Wertz gave Boston a sizeable early lead but the Red Sox barely edged New York 7-5 Thursday in the face of late Yankee power sparked by Bill Skowron's two home runs.

The contest was undecided until right fielder Jackie Jensen went to the bullpen wall to haul in pinch hitter Elston Howard's drive for the final out.

New York scored four times and collected half of their 14 hits over the last two innings.

Skowron's ninth homer of the season was the first off winner Bill Monbouquette in 76 innings and his 10th came in the final inning with a teammate on base.

The latter blow pulled the New Yorkers within two runs. Catcher John Blanchard greeted Tracy Stallard, the third Sox pitcher, with a double. But the Red Sox survived when Bobby Richardson lined out before Howard ended it.

Wertz singled and hit a pair of sacrifice flies to drive in three runs. He also lumbered around the bases for his first triple in six seasons, and came home on Jensen's single in the Red Sox fourth-run third inning.

Rookie Carl Yastrzemski's homer, Frank Malzone's double and an infield hit by Monbouquette accounted for the other scoring in the big frame.

In Race's History

INDIANAPOLIS (UPI) — A. J. Foyt, winner of the fastest 500-mile auto race, paid a visit to the Speedway office Thursday to pick up the rest of the biggest jackpot in the race's history.

Foyt and his crew earlier had received a check for $111,400, the lion's share of what was already the largest amount of money ever split for the event. The total jackpot, until that moment, was $393,425.

When he presented the check, Speedway President Tony Hulman told Foyt, "I think it's about time this became $400,000. Come by the office and I'll give you a check for the rest."

The "rest" was $6,575 to bring the payoff to the winning car to $117,975.

The total jackpot, in which all 33 starters shared, included $301,675 from the Speedway, $30,000 in lap prizes and $68,325 in accessory prizes. Foyt's share included nearly $30,000 in accessory prizes and $10,650 in lap money in addition to the money from the Speedway. He also received a number of additional awards.

Second-place finisher Eddie Sachs, who had the race won until he had to make an unexpected pit stop for a new tire with three laps left, received a total of $53,400 and Rodger Ward received $26,500 for finishing third.

Westernporters Hand Franklin 11th Loss, 11-3

Westernport handed Franklin its 11th consecutive loss yesterday, an 11-3 setback in the Twilight Baseball League contest at Westernport.

The win was the sixth in a row for Westernport and gave the league-leaders a half-game bulge over Barton which lost to Klondyke, 4-1, at Barton.

In the third loop encounter, Zihlman defeated Danville's 220 Rebels, 6-2, at Zihlman.

Dick Niland picked up the pitching victory for Westernport in relief. Norman Raines was the loser, also in relief.

Niland belted a triple while Ray Vinci, Franklin's starting hurler, smacked a home run.

At Barton Klondyke's Colts tallied a pair of runs in the fourth and sixth innings to beat Lou Fazenbaker. Paul "Bubbles" Thompson was the winner with a four-hit pitching effort.

Thompson had a pair of singles and Moose Arnone belted a double for Klondyke. George Lauder had a double and a single for Barton.

Manager Joe Dorsey's LaVale Maroons took over the leadership of the Pen-Mar Little League with a 5-0 record by handing Barrelville its first defeat of the season yesterday at LaVale by the score of 8-7.

A barrage of bunts coupled with erratic play afield enabled the Maroons to chalk up five runs in the fifth and final frame for their come-from-behind victory.

Mike Freeman, who supplanted Dave Pittman on the mound in the fifth, was credited with the win. Jim Williams, who went the route for the losers, fanned seven. Pittman whiffed eight.

Corky Hickie slammed a home run and Dickie Eyler and Don Wagner garnered two hits each for the Maroons. Williams homered and doubled for two of Barrelville's four hits.

Steve Lee tossed a two-hitter and struck out eleven as Tri-State Memorial defeated the LaVale Orioles at Cresaptown by the score of 6-0.

Lee and Bob Deremer clouted homers for the victors. Glyn Davis and Clarence Foose accounted for the Orioles two hits—both singles.

Wellersburg handed the Cresaptown Eagles their fifth consecutive defeat at Wellersburg to the tune of 5-1.

Gary Robinette held the Eagles to one hit and gave way to Jim Kennell, who fanned the side in the final frame. John Cassen obtained two of Wellersburg's six hits and batted in three runs. Gene Paul and Peterbrink batted in the other runs for the winners. G. Kennell had the Eagles' lone hit. George Strickland, Cresaptown hurler, struck out six.

Joseph Conti, 62, Former Colts' 3d Baseman, Dies

Played With Champs Of 1927; Rites Set Saturday At Renova

Final rites for Joseph Conti, 62, peerless third baseman of the Cumberland Colts of the Middle Atlantic Baseball League from 1927 to 1930, who died Tuesday at Renova, Pa., will be held there Saturday at 9 a. m.

Conti died of a throat ailment at a Renova hospital.

Joe was the No. 1 third baseman in the Middle Atlantic League with Cumberland's first championship team in organized baseball in 1927. He fielded .953 that season and was a member of the infield quartet that included John J. Byrnes, of Eckhart, at first base, Dave Black at second base and John "Shine" Cortazzo at shortstop.

Byrnes, Black and Cortazzo were also best at their positions in the league with fielding averages of .983, .969 and .948, respectively. John Boyle was the utility infielder on that team and played shortstop in the championship series after Cortazzo was sold to Johnstown. Cumberland won the title series from Johnstown, four games to two.

Boyle and Black preceded Conti in death. Cortazzo now resides at Wilmerding, Pa., and Byrnes continues in the grocery business at Eckhart.

August "Gus" Thompson, of New Castle, Pa., managed the 1927 champions. Other members of the squad included Jack Rice, Tommy McGuire, of Westernport, Jimmy Devine, Sam Werneke and Warren Rambo.

Baseball, being the game it is, usually brings many surprises with each season and 1961 is no exception.

Who, for example, would have expected to see Detroit leading the American League and Chicago stumbling along in the cellar?

It's no surprise to find the Phillies in the National League basement but again who would have expected Cincinnati to be tied for the lead?

Other surprises (to us, at least) include Harmon Killebrew's .350 and Wally Moon's .362 batting averages and the flurry of R.B.I.'s for so early in the season.

Some of these things are bound to be temporary in nature but this is the stuff of which baseball excitement is made.

Love the game? That we do and we love to talk about our favorite teams and players. Come join us at The Cas Taylor's. Discuss your favorite sports (or other) topic while you enjoy our delicious food and drink.

We're still holding court at the corner of N. Mechanic and Valley Streets!

Ranker Is First Allegany Player To Win Batting Title In 12 Years

Joe Is Fifth Alto Winner With .600; Campers' .311 Best

When Joe Ranker posted a .600 average this season he became the first Allegany High School player to win the Allegany County High School League batting championship in 12 years.

The Campers' hard-hitting senior catcher, who collected 21 hits in 35 official trips to the plate, hit safely in 10 of the 12 games played by Coach Chester Payne's team and in two of the contests he turned in four-for-four performances.

Roy Perrill was the last Allegany player to annex the batting crown with a .467 average in 1949. Fifth Allegany Winner Ranker is the fifth camper player to pace the league hitter's over 23 seasons. Franklin See's .436 was high in 1939. Bobby Williams set the pace in 1943 with .568 and Noyes Thompson "Tommy" Powers was the league leader in 1945 with an average of .480.

Ranker's .600 is the third highest average in the history of the circuit. Fay Otten's (Mt. Savage) .621 in 1960 is the all-time high and the .613 turned in by Ronnie Cage of Fort Hill in 1950 is the second best.

Fort Hill and Allegany are now tied with five batting champions each. The Sentinels who copped the crown were Gary Wolford (1957), Cage (1950), Jim Manges (1948), Elmer Freeland (1946) and Paul Whitford (1942).

Haupt Is Runner-Up
Jim Haupt of Beall High School took runner-up honors this season with an average of .581. Ronnie Speir, LaSalle, was third with .500, Richard Parsons, Fort Hill, fourth, with .455 and Harry "Butch" Bosley, fifth, with a mark of .441.

Ranker chalked up the most hits — 21 — and Allan Eisel, of Beall, scored the most runs, a total of 15.

Campers' .311 Tops
Allegany turned in the highest team batting average of .311 and Fort Hill, the league champion.

The league-leading Veterans of Foreign Wars retained their edge in the Rocking Chair Softball League by belting the third-place B.P.O. Elks, 8-1, yesterday at Allegany field.

The triumph was the sixth in seven games for Manager Cecil Grimes' Vets who hold a one-game edge over second-place Knights of Columbus.

Floyd "Pete" Elliott permitted the Elks only three hits as he notched his third pitching victory for the Vets.

Elliott and Dick Clay each collected a double and single while Galen McGregor had a single and a triple to pace the Vets' 16-hit attack. Four other VFW players had two hits apiece in the game.

The Elks shoved over their only run in the seventh on a double by losing pitcher Leo Rhodes and a single by Bobby Williams.

The Knights of Columbus had an easy time winning their fifth game, a 20-5 decision over the C&P Telephone Company at Post field.

Russ Miller allowed nine hits in going the route for the Caseys who took advantage of seven errors by the Phonemen and eight walks. Tom Mullaney had four hits, including a pair of triples with the sacks loaded, a double and a single. He wound up the day with seven runs batted in for the Caseys.

Al Martin chipped in with three singles for the winners and Norm Sell belted a home run and a single. John Brown smacked out three singles and a homer for the Phonemen.

At Naval Reserve the Moose came up with three runs in the fifth inning to break a 2-2 deadlock for a 5-2 decision over the Celanese.

Dick Klavuhn helped win his own game with a two-run homer during the rally. Ref Moreland and Woody Woodson each had two hits for the winners.

The fielding highlight of the game was Bob Keyser's running catch of Glen Burke's long drive in centerfield in the fourth inning. A pair of triples by Bill Ware and Jim Manges led to the Celanese runs in the fourth.

At Stitches field Ritter's A. C. belted Pittsburgh Plate, 17-2, as Glenn Kaufman pitched a four-hitter and struck out 10. Fred Comer had a home run and two singles and Fred Meeks a triple and single for the winners. Bill Thompson belted a two-run homer in the second for PPG.

Pirates Recall Earl Francis; Replaces Witt

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Right-hander Earl Francis, a mainstay on the hurling staff of Columbus in the International League, was recalled by the Pittsburgh Pirates Thursday to replace disabled George Witt.

A resident of Beckley, W. Va., Francis shows an ERA of 1.75 in 41 innings with the Jets this season. His three victories include a shutout. He has appeared in nine games, completing five and has struck out 33 batters.

Francis had a 1-0 record with the Pirates last season but was hampered by a sore arm and was sent to the Jets where he turned in a 5-4 chart. He was expected to join the Pirates Thursday or Friday.

Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick gave the Pirates permission to place Witt on the disabled list. The tall right-hander, plagued by misfortune since his brilliant showing as a rookie in 1958, was struck on the left ankle by a line drive off the bat of Cardinal outfielder Don Taussig in St. Louis last week.

A torn ligament began hemorrhaging considerably and doctors advised Witt to rest.

Cards Knock Giants From First, 7 To 6

Victors Nearly Lose 6-Run Lead

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals came close to blowing a six-run lead but beat San Francisco 7-6 Thursday and knocked the Giants out of the National League lead for the first time since May 2.

The Cards chased Giant starter Mike McCormick in the fifth inning when they collected five runs on five singles and a walk. McCormick was the loser and his record now is 5-4.

The Giants got 13 hits off Cardinal starter Ernie Broglio and Lindy McDaniel but left eight runners on base. Broglio (5-5), the winner, allowed 10 hits. McDaniel relieved him in the seventh.

The Cardinals, leading 6-0 in the fifth, still had a 7-4 lead when the Giants came up in the ninth. Felipe Alou led off with his sixth homer of the season. After McDaniel got rid of Jim Davenport and Willie Mays, Willie McCovey smashed his seventh homer of the season.

McDaniel got two strikes on Orlando Cepeda but the second strike was a long foul that just missed being a homer. Cardinal Manager Solly Hemus brought in Al Cicotte who made Cepeda ground out to end the game.

Sets World Record

MILAN, Italy (AP)—Carlo Lievore of Italy Thursday threw the javelin 284 feet, 7 inches, bettering the world record for the event.

Al Cantello of the United States set the listed record of 282-3/4 at Compton, Calif., June 5, 1959. Officials of the Italian Athletic Federation said they would ask the International Athletic Federation to recognize Lievore's mark.

Boxers Limber Up For Title Battle

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Challenger Gaspar Ortega and welterweight champion Emile Griffith limbered up Thursday for their 15-round nationally televised title bout Saturday night after completing their final boxing sessions.

Because of Ortega's impressive drills, odds against the Tijuana, Mexico, battler, dropped from 12-5 to 2-1 this week. Observers said he appeared in the best condition of his career in his final workout.

Market Closes Irregular After Day Of Indecision

NEW YORK (UPI) — Indecision plagued the stock market Thursday as prices ran lower in the morning, firmed in the afternoon and sold off again near the close to finish thoroughly mixed.

More stocks fell than rose but the popular market averages lost only a small amount while activity plunged to 3,770,000 shares from 4,320,000 on Wednesday.

The Dow Jones industrial average slumped 1.35 to 695.37 but this was mostly due to two stocks: Eastman Kodak down 2% and Woolworth off 2%. Anaconda, also in the average, lost 1% in a weak copper group following a 1/4 cent a pound cut in the price for scrap. Ralls fell 0.79 to 144.12 and utilities rose 0.68 to 113.45.

Cards of Thanks

I wish to thank my friends, neighbors and relatives who were so kind to be during my recent bereavement, the sudden death of my beloved husband, Charles Getson. I especially wish to thank the pallbearers, those who sent flowers, the minister, the fireman and those who donated the use of cars for the funeral. To all others who in any manner rendered assistance, I am indeed grateful.

HIS WIFE, MRS. LEOTA GETSON

In Memoriam

In loving memory of our beloved husband and father, Edgar Kolb, Sr. who died 3 years ago today, June 2, 1958.

12,307 Pupils Take Vaccine

Public To Receive Sabin Doses At 17 Centers Today, Tomorrow

Nearly two-thirds of the public and parochial school children of Allegany County swallowed doses of the Sabin live oral polio vaccine as a three-day mass immunization test got under way yesterday.

The total participation was 12,307 pupils of a total school population of 18,831. That's 64.76 per cent.

In general, the heaviest participation took place in Cumberland schools, with some notable exceptions outside the city. In some outlying areas the response was only about 50 per cent.

Doctors of the Allegany-Garrett County Medical Society, who are sponsoring the local program, expressed pleasure with the response, but said they hoped for even better turnouts at 17 dispensing centers where the public will get doses of Sabin vaccine today and tomorrow from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Some children missed taking the vaccine because they lacked the necessary forms yesterday. Doctors urged that they report to one of the public dispensing centers to get the vaccine today or tomorrow.

Smooth-Running Program

Things went off well at most of the schools yesterday.

Doctors ran each school's program, with help from druggists and nurses who diluted the vaccine — two drops into a teaspoonful of distilled water in a tiny paper cup.

School students, teachers and volunteer lay helpers handled the simple paper work, and in most cases the lines moved swiftly.

There were some isolated organizational difficulties, but every school completed its work quickly once the doses had been started. At Parkside School in LaVale, 310 of the 360 enrolled pupils were fed the vaccine in an hour.

How It's Done

At a typical school, the system worked simply and smoothly.

Children handed their completed registration cards and parental consent forms to clerical helpers who recorded the name, address and number of every person on a tally sheet.

Then each pupil took his forms to another table, where the date and the lot number of the vaccine dose were recorded.

He was handed a tiny paper cup containing a teaspoonful of distilled water and two drops of vaccine. He downed it and turned in his forms at the desk.

"How did it taste?" several pupils were asked as they walked away.

Most simply shrugged their shoulders. Some said it was just like water. Others thought it was a tiny bit salty, but mostly watery. None said it tasted bad.

Public Program Today

The system outlined above will be in effect at the 17 public dispensing centers today and tomorrow, when doctors hope an even greater percentage of the population will take advantage of the program.

Transportation To Polio Centers Is Available

Anyone who needs a ride to a polio vaccine dispensing center can have it free by calling PA 2-3353.

The Junior Association of Commerce will provide free transportation to the vaccine centers to all who call that number.

Vaccine and supplies will be transported to the centers by druggists. Should supplies run low at a given center, state and city police will fill in as relays.

Meanwhile, volunteers still are needed for the City Hall dispensing center, especially for tomorrow. Anyone who wants to work there may go to the center when he can and ask for the doctor in charge.

The Baltimore Pike Volunteer Fire Company and its auxiliary will hold a round and square dance Saturday from 9 p. m. to midnight at Minke's Cottage Inn, with music by Wayne Brown's orchestra. Proceeds will be added to the fire equipment fund.

Good For Teacher, Too

Three of Mrs. J. Hubert Radcliffe's first-grade pupils at Centre Street School watch as she swallows a dose of Sabin oral polio vaccine to show how it's done. The pupils are Shirley Welsh, Linda Baer and John Kirk. More than 12,000 school pupils took the new vaccine yesterday as a three-day community-wide test immunization program got under way.

Oral Vaccine Facts

In this series of reports, Albert B. Sabin, M.D., developer of the oral polio vaccine, answers some of the most common questions about his vaccine.

- Q. Should an individual who has had poliomyelitis be immunized?
- A. An individual who has had poliomyelitis should be vaccinated because he may still lack immunity for two of the three types of poliovirus.
- Q. Is the oral vaccine safe only when it is used in community-wide programs?
- A. No. The safety of this oral vaccine has been established for young and old administered on an individual basis as well as in community-wide programs. Since 1957 the present oral vaccine has been fed to small groups, involving only tens or hundreds of persons in such U. S. cities as Cincinnati, Cleveland, Houston, Nashville, New Haven, New Orleans and New York, as well as in Holland, England, Switzerland, Mexico, etc., without evidence of any untoward event in families or communities. (Harrisburg, Pa., now is completing a community-wide program using Sabin vaccine.)

Blood Test Opportunity Offered

300 Samples Sought At Vaccine Centers

Three hundred sets of parents have a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity today and tomorrow to find out how much immunity to polio their children have.

They are the parents who will be asked to volunteer their children, seven years old and younger, for small blood samples as a part of the community-wide test immunization program using the Sabin oral live poliovirus vaccine.

Why is this such an opportunity?

Because it just isn't done ordinarily unless a child has polio. That's because the blood test involved is too complicated and expensive.

You can't have it done by going to a doctor at some other time and asking him to find out if your child is immune to polio. It can be done only in a program such as today's.

Testing will be done free by Wyeth Laboratories of Philadelphia, which also is supplying all the free vaccine used in the three-day immunization program which began in schools yesterday and continues at 17 dispensing centers today and tomorrow from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m.

No child will be required to give blood in order to receive vaccine. Doctors will merely advise parents of the rare opportunity, and will ask them to volunteer their children to give about a teaspoonful of blood.

Why are samples wanted only from small children?

Because small children now are the principal victims and the principal carriers of polio. The greatest incidence of polio in the U. S. last year was in the one-to-five age group.

No older children or adults will be asked to give blood.

Parents of each participating child will be notified later this summer of the status of the child's immunity to polio.

S. J. Groves Bids Low On Route 40 Job

Five Firms Seek Polish Mt. Contract

Five bids were submitted to the State Roads Commission yesterday on a contract for improving four miles of U. S. Route 40 from the top of Polish Mountain to Fifteen Mile Creek.

The S. J. Groves and Sons contracting firm of Minneapolis, Minn., was the apparent low bidder at $63,959.90.

Other bids were submitted by T. Edgie Russell, Frederick, $95,076.45; Baughman Contracting Company, LaVale, $1,003,024.12; George F. Hazelwood Company, Cumberland, $1,017,187.18, and S. T. Brotemarkle Company, Cumberland, $1,024,202.55.

Two-Year Job

The contract calls for the relocation and construction of 3.999 miles of modern highway on the East slope of Polish Mountain. The road will be surfaced with bituminous concrete.

The SRC said the work on the road will be started this summer and completed in about two years.

The contract will be awarded under the accelerated plan for the modernization of Route 40 in Western Maryland.

Last month, the George F. Hazelwood Company here was the low bidder, at $812,656.60, for the relocation of 2.87 miles of Route 40 reconstruction from Siding Hill Mountain to the Town Hill relocation project.

District 6 SRC officials said the contract is expected to be awarded soon.

Awaits Go Ahead

The Cumberland Contracting Company recently was awarded a $941,430.15 contract for rebuilding Route 40 in the Long Hill section, grading and drainage of Nave's Crossroad and building a bridge on top of Long Hill.

It was reported that the firm may receive its notice to proceed with construction next week.

The Groves firm is speeding work on a $2,142,230 contract on the west slope of Martin Mountain, and expects to complete work by fall.

Paving work on the project was resumed last Thursday.

Medical Center Building Slated

A permit for the construction of a medical professional building at 401 Decatur Street was issued yesterday by the City of Cumberland.

The permit was secured by Dr. Carlton Brinsfield, 1825 Bedford Street, and calls for the construction of a two-story brick building at the intersection of Decatur and Davidson streets.

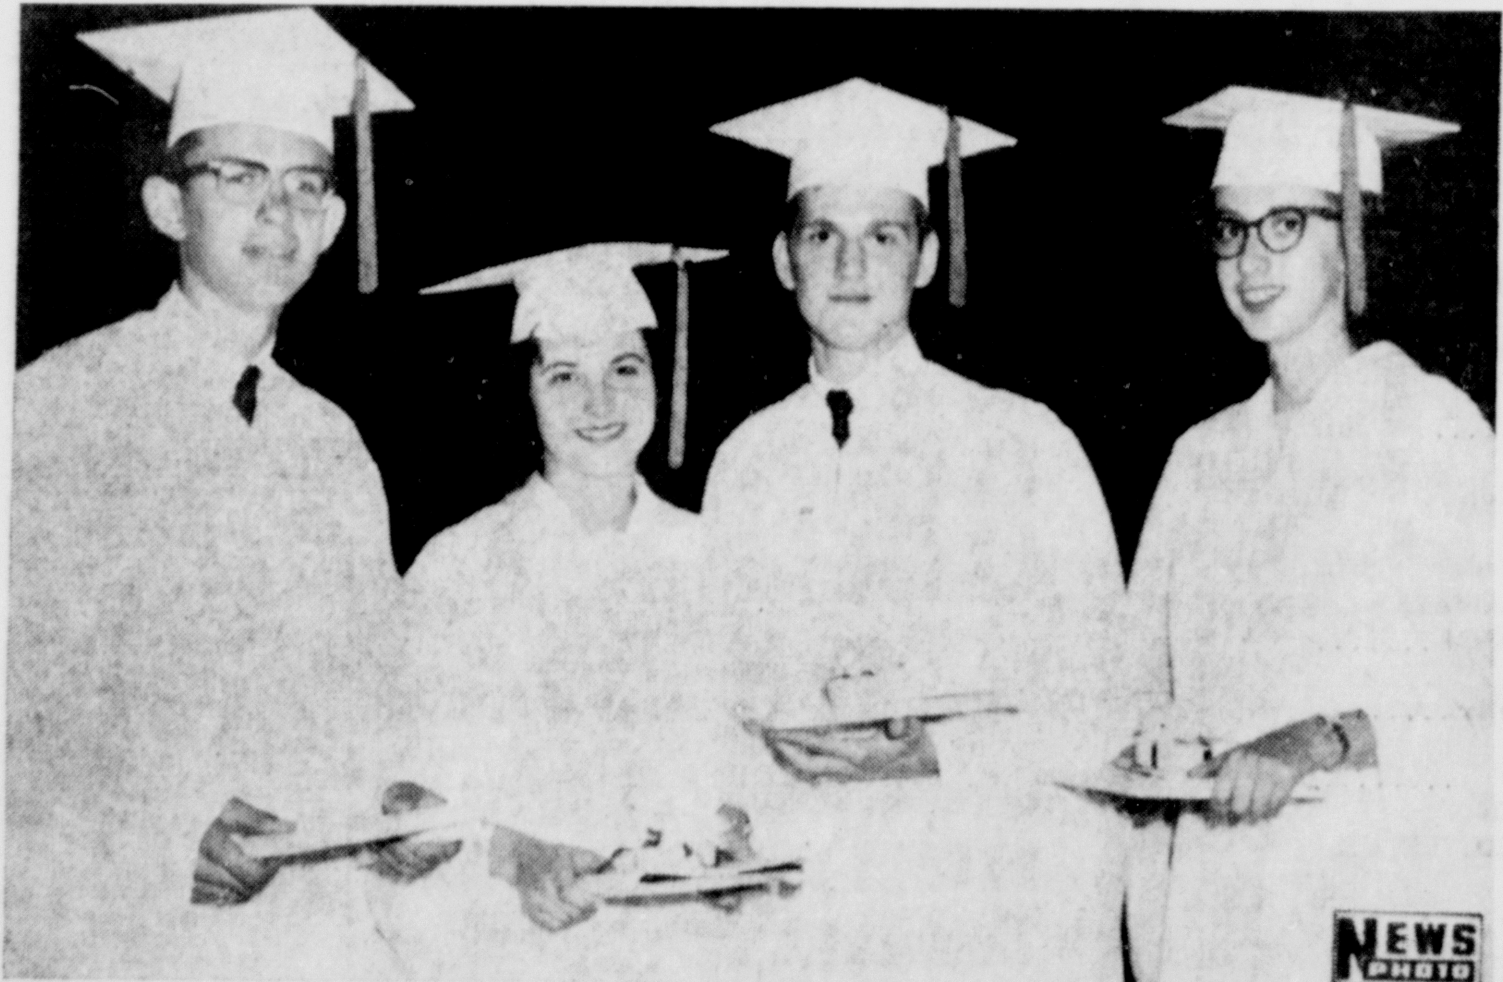

A fallout shelter is provided in plans prepared by James D. Weber, Bel Air architect. Facilities for about four doctors are provided.

The medical center building will be 32 by 54 feet and of brick construction. Two parking lots are provided in the plans.

Orrie Sensabaugh will be the contractor for the $25,000 building.
